Obituaries

Olive M. McLay

Funeral rites for Mrs. Olive M. McLay were conducted Monday in Vale. Officiating was the Rev. Virden Seybold of the Methodist church, with interment made at Valley View cemetery, under direction of High's chapel.

Mrs. McLay, a resident of the Vale area for the past 55 years, succumbed Sept. 21, 1967 in an Ontario hospital. She was born Feb. 23, 1892 in Boston, Pa., and was married to Howard McLay on May 9, 1910 in Pennsylvania. The couple resided in that state for two years after their marriage and in 1912 moved to Vale and homesteaded in the present Sand Hollow district.

They farmed at several locations in the valley and in 1932 moved to a farm about three miles southwest of Vale, where they had since resided.

The deceased was a member of the Methodist church, Vale Grange and Grove Community club.

In addition to Mr. McLay, she is survived by four sons, Elmer of Vale, John of Homer, Alaska, Dean of Baker and LeRoy McLay of Nyssa, two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy McMeese of North Bend, Ore., and Mrs. Bernice Harrison of Salt Lake City.

Also surviving are 25 grandchildren, 24 great-grandchildren, many nieces and nephews.

Sunday, October 1 will be observed as World-Wide Communion Day at Nyssa Methodist church as it joins with some 38,000 Methodist churches and innumerable other Christian congregations around the world.

During the 11 o'clock morning worship service, the Rev. Ralph A. Lawrence will conduct a special ritual for the Sacrament

Amanda S. Corn

Services for Mrs. Amanda S. Corn were conducted Monday afternoon, Sept. 25, 1967, at Peckham-Dakan chapel in Nampa. The Rev. Ronald de Graff of Middleton First Baptist church officiated, and interment was made in Dry Creek cemetery near Boise.

Mrs. Corn, a pioneer of the Boise valley, died early Friday in a Caldwell hospital. She was born June 3, 1880 at Hermitage, Mo., and came to the Boise valley when she was 19 years old.

On October 22, 1902, she was married to William F. Corn in Boise and the couple farmed near Emmett, Payette and in eastern Malheur county until 1944 when they moved to Nampa. Mr. Corn succumbed March 24, 1966 in Caldwell.

Mrs. Corn was a member of the Baptist church.

Among survivors are three sons, Jack W. of Nampa, Ross of Ontario and Fay Corn of Nyssa; three daughters, Mrs. Mildred Taylor of Crescent City, Calif., Mrs. Esther Welton of Burley and Mrs. Mary Osborn of Whittier, Calif.

Also surviving are two brothers, Ted Hitson of St. Joseph, Mo., and Tom Hitson of San Fernando, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Anna Nobles of Dallas, Texas; 23 grandchildren and 52 great-grandchildren. Mrs. Corn was preceded in death by two brothers and a sister. of the Lord's Supper, and he will speak on the topic, "What Is Your Posture?"

World-Wide Communion is the annual observance in which churches of many denominations and faiths join in a common act symbolizing oneness in Jesus Christ.

Communion stewards assisting in the service will be Mrs. Myrtle Alexander, Mrs. Leo Gonyer, Mrs. Frances Bates and Mrs. Al Chadwick.

Adrian Community Church News

Twenty members of the women's association of Adrian Community church met Sept. 14 in the church social room. Mrs. Dorothy Obendorf of Roswell, Mrs. Jo Marshall of Caldwell and Mrs. Frankie Worden of Newell Heights told of the recent women's meeting at Purdue university.

Over 5,000 women attended, representing all of the United States and 20 foreign countries. is a native of the Philippines, and is a former AFS exchange student at NHS. While attending the local school, she made her home with the House family.)

The women reported that in one of the films shown, they saw Harold Kurtz, Missionary from the Adrian church, serving in Ethiopia. Theme of the session was "No Longer Strangers."

The recent Adrian meeting was opened with the song, "Jesus Calls Us," and scripture reading from The Psalms. These were the same as used for the opening of the Purdue meeting.

New rules and regulations were discussed at the Sept. 14 session. Mrs. Elenore Topliff was in charge of the business meeting, and the "Least Coin" dish was circulated. Clothing, to be sent to the needy overseas, was among topics discussed and the budget for the coming year was outlined by Mrs. Gail Winn.

What's Your Vote Worth?

If the Senate Finance Committee has its way, the 1968 election campaign is going to be an affluent happening worthy of a Great Society. On September 14, by a vote of 10 to 7, it approved a bill which would require the taxpayer, and not the candidate, to pick up the tab for campaign expenses. No newspaper account that we saw spelled out the provisions of the bill in detail. We'll do so, briefly.

First off, there would be a permanent congressional appropriation of $14 million for each presidential candidate of the two major parties, Democratic and Republican. In case you wonder how the Senate Finance Committee arrived at that figure, it's very simple. A total of 70 million votes was cast in the 1964 presidential election. The Committee concluded that your vote was worth 20 cents. And 70 million votes at 20 cents each is $14 million. Try to fault that for arithmetic.

However, the members of the Committee (all Senators, of course) put a higher price on votes for a Senator. Taking the 1964 figures as a measuring stick, they concluded that a vote for Senator was worth 50 cents. But that premium price applies only to the first 200,000 votes cast. The next 200,000 votes are worth only 35 cents. Any votes over 400,000 would be worth the Presidential price: 20 cents. If you have thought from time to time that Senators show signs of an inflated opinion of their importance you are free to employ that 50-cent price tag in justification of your opinion. What the President will think when and if the bill comes up to him for signature will be interesting. His 20-cent vote allowance may look thin. Indeed, he may reflect that moving from the Senate to the White House was quite a comedown.

In any event, it's estimated that something like $26 million out of the public treasury will be needed to finance the 100 candidates of the two major parties for the Senate. But the Committee's bill doesn't provide for taking care of candidates running for either the presidency or the senate on minor party tickets such as the Communist Party, the Socialist Party the Wallace ticket, the Martin Luther King ticket, the Prohibition Party, and so on. Those funds will be agreed upon in the floor debate.

What about funds for candidates for the House of Representatives, you ask? Well, Senator Gore, who helped draft the Committee's bill, said it would be up to the House "to write its own ticket," when the bill arrives on that side of the Capitol. - U. S. Press Association.
