NEW GROUND FROM OLD

VORLEX at 10 gallons per acre and fall bedded was primarily responsible for enabling me to produce 1,100 stubs per acre during a tough growing year (1967) immediately following a 500 stub crop in 1966 on the same field. I also obtained excellent early season weed control in onion row, every seed germinated. I had a perfect stand of space seeded onion (no Damp Off). I don't believe I would raise an onion crop on older farmed ground without using VORLEX. Neil Underwood, Route 2, Ontario, Oregon.
