I also want to thank my friends for their many kindnesses and considerations. - Mrs. Parley Feik.

MUSICAL NOTES

By Craig
Northrup
Nyssa Band Director

At the Idaho marching band festival in Nampa, the Nyssa high school marching band won a 1-A (superior) rating in competition with 20 Treasure Valley schools. Their show featured music that the last Walt Disney made famous throughout his lifetime. The music was arranged by Nyssa's new Band Director Craig Northrup.

Among other honors which the band has received this year is an invitation from Oregon State university in Corvallis to perform at their football game on November 9, 1968 when OSU meets UCLA.

Nyssa school board members have given their permission for the trip, and the students are responsible for raising the necessary money through their annual calendar sales.

Four Nyssa high school students have been accepted as members of the SRV honor band. They auditioned along with over 100 other SRV high school students on October 23, 1967. This year the honor band is

4H CLUB EVENTS

CHEERFUL HEALTH CLUB

The third meeting of the 4-H Cheerful Health Club in Mrs. Lane's classroom was held November 3, 1967. President Tom Church called the meeting to order.

We answered roll call by telling of any hazards in our homes. Secretary, Dean Sappe read the minutes of the previous meeting. Debra Alexander suggested that we should elect a reporter. It was approved and we elected Debra.

After that our song leaders led us in "The Star-Spangled Banner," "My Oregon," and "The More We Get Together." The president then dismissed the meeting and Game Chairman, Ricky Schoen showed us how to play "City Chain." The president appointed Steven Sage as game chairman for the next meeting. - Debra Alexander, reporter.

directed by William Schenk, director of music at Treasure Valley Community college. The local students are Linda Ballou, Merla Ashby, Larry Miner and Kay Abe.

The first concert to be given by the group will be in conjunction with the SRV choral clinic at 8 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 18, in the Ontario high school gym.

This concert will feature an 1100-voice mass choir, which will include the Nyssa high school choir, and the 50-piece honor band.
