problems or conditions involving people and their relationship with each other. Kenneth W. Fitzgerald, editor of the Oregon Grange bulletin, described how the paper is made up and explained some of the problems of an editor. He stated the importance of getting information of who, when, what, where and why in the first few lines of the article. He encouraged members to send in their grange news and feature stories of interest. He stated that pictures always add to the interest of a story and commented that black and white, rather than color prints, are easiest to reproduce.

Roger Nelson, dramatics instructor at Pendleton high school, talked on "Involvement in Skits, Stunts and Dramatics". Mrs. Boenig was called upon to present a skit. She was given five minutes to choose and instruct the cast.

"Our Public Libraries, Dynamic Information Center" was subject of a talk by Richard F. Joder, librarian for Umatilla county. He commented that a library card is a passport to knowledge. He quoted from a booklet put out by Channing L.

Bete company, "If you read only 15 minutes a day, you would read one-half of a book a week, two books a month, 24 books a year, 1,000 books in your lifetime."

This would be equal to going through college five times, making you an authority on any subject you choose, or taking a trip around the world." A leadership training workshop was conducted by Glenn Klein of Oregon State university. He defined leadership as the "activity of helping others work toward common goals or purposes."

Other speakers included Miss Esther Taskerud, Assistant Director of extension service at OSU. She spoke on the use of films in programs. Mrs. Veneta Chezem, past pomona lecturer of Lane County, gave a demonstration on the use of tableaux in grange work.

Approximately 50 grangers attended the Wednesday night, evening banquet served by members of the Methodist church. State Master Allen P. Wheeler was featured speaker and his subject was, "What Determines Your Circle of Freedom."

Entertainment was furnished by the Harmony Belles of Pendleton.

SEEKS RE-ELECTION

Malheur County Clerk Robert Morcom announced last week that A. F. (Dee) Peters has filed for re-election as Justice Of The Peace at Ontario.

LOU GASCA, assistant director of the forthcoming play, 'Antigone' is glancing over the set that will be reproduced reminiscent of Greek tragedy plays of old. In staging 'Antigone' Treasure Valley Community college brings to theater patrons another new experience. The Greek tragedy uses a nonentity conscience. In 'Antigone' it is a single-person chorus who ties characters to the plot. The set is the traditional collanaded amphitheater, but the setting is modernday. The characters retain their age old names, but portray twentieth century persons.
