

NANCY BOCK

Miss Bock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus E. Bock of Nyssa, was recently informed by Mrs. Louisa Warthen that she has been chosen to receive this year's scholarship award from the Delta Kappa Gamma sorority.

During four years of high school, Nancy has achieved an outstanding academic record. In addition she has been a member of GAA, German Club and the Tupelo annual staff. She has held offices as both assistant manager and business manager of the Tupelo, and treasurer of the senior class, and GAA president.

Out-of-school activities include membership in the Methodist Youth Fellowship organization. Special honors received by the NHS student include lettering in GAA and being chosen 'Girl-of-the-Month' for October 1967.

Miss Bock has indicated that she plans to begin her college program this summer at the University of Oregon in Eugene. She states that she hopes to major in history and perhaps go into the teaching field.

Appeal Deadline Set May 20 For Oregon Property Taxpayers

Oregon property taxpayers have until Monday, May 20, to appeal this year's assessments to their County Boards of Equalization.

Taxpayers are cautioned that they cannot wait until receiving their tax statements next fall to appeal their assessments. If they do not know the assessed value at this time, they can obtain this information at the county assessor's office.

This year, for the first time, assessed value will be the same as true cash (market) value. If a taxpayer feels the assessor's appraisal is out of line with comparable properties in the district, he is advised to request the assessor to review the appraisal. The assessor may make adjustments as late as May 1.

If the taxpayer is not satisfied with the assessor's final determination, he may appeal by petition to the County Board of Equalization. Forms for this purpose are available from the county clerk and/or county assessor.

If the taxpayer is dissatisfied with the board's ruling, he may appeal to the State Tax Commission or, in some cases, directly to the Small Claims Division of the Oregon Tax Court.

The latter's jurisdiction covers real property whose value is not over $25,000 and personal property whose value does not exceed $10,000.

A decision in the Small Claims Division is final and there is no further appeal.

Decisions by the Tax Commission may be appealed to the Regular Division of the Tax Court, and from there to the Oregon Supreme Court.

EOC MUSICIANS

TAKE SIX-DAY TOUR

David Patterson and James Jamieson of Nyssa were among 35 Eastern Oregon College students who went on tour with the college Symphonic Band this year as the group presented its work in twelve eastern and central Oregon communities in a six-day tour beginning April 28.

James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Jamieson, 306 N. 4th, Nyssa.

News About SERVICEMEN

DON ANDERSON

Word was recently received from Don Anderson, serving with an US Navy jet helicopter squadron, that he just completed two cruises off the coast of Korea.

He is serving on one of two helicopters which landed on the ship, making contacts with three aircraft carriers.

Anderson is now back in Japan at Atsugi Naval Air Station. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Anderson of Nyssa.

JEANETTE PHIFER

Jan was recently named Malheur county state award winner in dairy foods by the State 4-H office at Oregon State University in Corvallis. For excellence in this area, she will be awarded a watch from the Carnation company. Miss Phifer, an Adrian high school senior, will also be given an opportunity to compete for a sectional or national trip in October. This award is given annually to 4-H club members whose all-around achievements in school, church and community have been exceptional. Sponsored by private organizations, the winners are chosen in various categories including leadership, dairy foods, beef and entomology.

Mother-Junior Weekend Event Slated May 10-12 At U of O

Mothers visiting the University of Oregon campus in Eugene from Friday through Sunday, May 10-12, for the 41st annual Mother's Weekend will have a chance to literally "go to school" for three hours Saturday.

A new feature of the weekend this year will be a "mini-college" for mothers of university students.

The program is part of an over-all effort by members of the Junior Class, sponsors of the weekend, to provide a more diversified program that reflects current interests and concerns of the University community.

The "mini-college" is being prepared by students and faculty involved in SEARCH courses this term. SEARC, an agency of the Associated Students of the University, allows students and faculty to initiate and conduct experimental classes for credit within the University structure.

The college will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. Saturday. Visiting moms may register for up to three of the six "courses" to be offered.

Classes to be held include Black Power and Urban Unrest, The New Music, Vietnam, Economics of Poverty, Caste and Race, Seminar on Drug Use and Contemporary Perspectives of Violence and Non-Violence. In addition to the "mini-college," the visiting mothers will also have a chance to participate in a special student-faculty panel discussion on the Kerner Report on civil disorders. The panel activities begin at 10 a.m. Saturday.

Although visiting Moms will be participating in two new events, they will also be kept busy with the traditional Mothers' - Junior Weekend activities which this year follow the general theme of "Drifting and Dreaming."

Friday night, some 15 floats built by campus living organizations will drift down the Mill-race during the unique water pageant. The 1968 Canoe Fete, which begins at 9 p.m., will follow the theme "The Wild, Wild West."

Saturday's events will start with the annual breakfast-business meeting of the Oregon Mothers club in the Erb Memorial Union at 8:15. Mothers will be guests of their sons or daughters during the annual all-campus luncheon which features tapplings by several campus honoraries.

In the afternoon, mothers can choose among the "mini-college," an informal tea in the Museum of Art, the varsity-alumni football game in Autzen Stadium or open houses in living organizations, the University Library and the University health service.

Saturday will conclude with the annual all-campus sing in McArthur Court at 8. Theme of the sing, in which 18 living organizations are entered, is "The Impossible Dream."

TODAY - 3 p.m. Varsity Baseball, Harper at Adrian.
