Boy Scout Leaders Announce Plans For Expansion Program

Boy Scout Leaders from the Ore-ida Council Boy Scouts of America, are moving rapidly to prepare for the launching in 1969 of an eight year expansion program which is called "Boy Power '76", according to Henry Falkner, Boise, Council President.

Buck Jones, Jim Palumbo of Boise, delegates to the National Council and John D. Warnick, Scout Executive attended the 58th National Council Meeting in Chicago held on May 23-25, 1968, to learn of the new theme and ways to localize the national long-range plan which will make Scouting relevant to the needs and concerns of youth and the nation.

On January 1, 1969, the Manpower of the Boy Scouts of America in each of its 510 Local Councils will launch Boy Power '76 a new long-range plan that will carry through 1976, the 200th Anniversary of our nation. During those eight years of intensive efforts we will move forward under the basic truth that "America's Manpower begins with Boypower".

The purpose of Boypower '76: "To deeply involve a representative one-third of all American boys in Scouting," and "to help the families and institutions of the Nation prepare a new generation with the skill and confidence to master the changing demands of America's future and prepare to give leadership to it."

The plan calls for deeper penetration into poverty areas, doubling our present rate of growth in boys served (the greatest percentage growth is projected in Exploring), an improved quality program, and better service to units.

If Scouting has favorably affected the lives of one-fourth of America's boys in the past, there is no reason it cannot more effectively influence a representative one-third of our boys in the immediate future. To this end, the specific objectives of Boypower '76 are:

1. To ensure the relevance of Scouting to the needs and concerns of our nation and our youth.
2. To determine the level of quality to be maintained in units by establishing appropriate annual and intermediate goals.
3. To determine and secure the needed personnel and resources necessary to achieve those established goals.
4. To develop the methods of fixing responsibility and measuring results at administrative levels.
5. To establish mutual understanding and communication of aims and methods of the Boy Scouts of America with its partner institutions and other community agencies.
