 WEDNESDAY - 12 Noon to 6 P.M.
 THURSDAY - 10 A.M. to 6 P.M.
 FRIDAY and SATURDAY - 12 Noon to 6 P.M.

According to Mrs. Max (Norma) Urry, the following books are now available at the local library.

THE NEW LEGIONS by Donald Duncan, the Green Berets' hero who said "I quit". An ex-GI tells the hard truth about Vietnam, the military mentality, and a foreign policy that makes more enemies than friends.

PRAIRIE CHRISTMAS by Paul Engle. One who wants to make it a different Christmas for the family should read this book and start planning something special.

BOY OR GIRL? Names for every child, by Christine C. Thomson.

1001 QUESTIONS ANSWERED ABOUT ASTRONOMY by James S. Pickering. More people than ever before are interested today in outer space and the countless worlds it contains.

A DICTIONARY OF AMERICAN ANTIQUES by Carl W. Drepperd. Here is an extensive and eminently useful reference book for the collector of antiques and relics of America's settlers.

CIVIL SERVICE MANUAL by Donald J. Delap. Will acquaint readers with the facts of Federal employment, and directs on where to obtain information on state, county and municipal jobs.

RUSSIA INVADED 'from Genghis Khan to Hitler' by Mario Francini.

DRAWING CHILDREN by David Ghilchik. This volume not only shows the reader how to draw but how to do so step by step.

DRAWING IN CHALK AND CRAYON by Kay Marshall. A handy instruction book.

THE SECRET LIFE OF THE FLOWERS by Anne Ophelia Dowden. A beautifully illustrated book with excellent pictures.

GEMS AND JEWELS by Ned Seidler. Contains the history of stones from ancient times to the present.

LOVE SONNETS 'selected and with notes' by Louis Untermeyer. An excellent history of the sonnet and many outstanding examples.

ALEXANDRE DUMAS ADVENTURES IN CAUCASIA by Alexandre Dumas. This is a fierce land of high crags and deep chasms. It was a bastion between Europe and Asia that Czarist Russia.

EUROPEAN DESSERTS FOR AMERICAN KITCHENS by Elaine Ross. For the hostess who prides herself on offering her guests a dessert distinctive as well as delicious - and for the woman who enjoys cooking and likes to experiment with new culinary dishes - this unique collection of European desserts is especially designed.

NEW TEMPLE SHAKE-APPEAR, Timon of Athens, Pericles, Troilus and Cressida, King Henry VIII; There can be no doubt that it is the best one-play, one-volume edition.

HOW TO KEEP SLENDER AND FIT AFTER THIRTY by Bonnie Prudden. Tells you how to rate yourself - to analyze your appearance and to gauge your own degree of physical fitness.

THE MAN WHO WALKED THROUGH TIME by Colin Fletcher. Story of the first trip afoot through the depths of the Grand canyon by the author of the "Thousand-Mile Summer."

MUJERCITAS by Luisa M. Alcott. 'Little Women' in Spanish.

THE EVOLUTION OF STARS. Edited and with Commentaries by Thornton Page and Lou Williams Page. From the Macmillan Sky and Telescope Library of Astronomy, how stars are formed, their age and how they die.

FLOR DE LEYENDAS by Alejandro Casona. Legends of the World in Spanish.

HEALTH IN THE LATER YEARS by Robert E. Rothenburg. There are many illnesses which involve many parts of the body or many organs. This book discusses in layman language and related topics many diseases and what organs they involve.

EDGAR CAYCE ON ATLANTIS by Edgar Evans Cayce. America's most amazing prophet reveals the mysteries of the strange lost continent - and predicts where and when it will rise again.

THE VILLAGE OF BEN SUC by Jonathan Schell. The story of the American Destruction of a Vietnamese Village.

DRIVER EXAMS SLATED

According to an announcement received from the Department of Motor Vehicles of Oregon, a Drivers License Examiner will be on duty in Nyssa Friday, July 26, 1968, at the City Library between the hours of 9 A.M., and 2 P.M.

Persons wishing original licenses or permits to drive are asked to file applications well ahead of the scheduled closing hour in order to assure time for completion of the required license test.

PERSONALS

Joe Pounds and his son, Andy of Glendive, Mont., arrived June 25 at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Pounds. While in Treasure Valley area, Joe and Andy made several trips to interesting areas, including Burns. Mr. and Mrs. Pounds, accompanied them to Salt Lake City, where they visited the Mormon Tabernacle. At Denver, Colo., they visited another son, who is a patient in the Veterans' hospital. Then they drove to Casper, Wyo., to visit a daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Nick (Onna) Katsimanis and their newly adopted daughter, Clarissa Ann. The Pounds arrived home early July 14 when Joe and Andy departed for their home in Glendive.

THE JIM RYUN STORY by Cordner Nelson. An analogy can be made between Jim Ryun and the story of the Ugly Duckling. At the age of 15, Jim was a frail-looking boy, a gangling six-foot, one-inch in height and as awkward as a colt. He was an unlikely looking athlete, but an athlete was what he wanted to be.

36 CHILDREN by Herbert Kohl. This is a book about a young teacher's adventure with a class of eleven-year-old Negro children and of what they were able to create together.

OIL PAINTING STEP-BY-STEP by Arthur L. Guptill. Here is an art instruction classic that tells the student and the beginner the fundamentals about painting materials and tools and how to use them.

HEARING AIDS FOR CHILDREN

When severe impairment is found, children may have to resort to hearing aids for whatever sounds they may hear. This child will probably attend a special class for deaf children throughout most of his early educational years. The Oregon State Board of Health Hearing Conservation Program now provides hearing aids in cases where families are unable to purchase the expensive instruments.

Sen. Hatfield Tells Why He Favors Nixon

As a delegate to the Republican National Convention from Oregon where the overwhelming majority of Republican voters have spoken, I am pledged to support Richard Nixon as our candidate for President. Not only will I vote for him, I will actively seek support for his nomination and election.

There have been certain questions on which I have disagreed with Mr. Nixon, but our goals are primarily the same. This is the great strength of the Republican Party: That it is united on principle and prepared to provide the country with responsive and effective leadership.

It appears that the Democratic Party will nominate a man who is a prisoner of the policies of the past. A change in personality at the top of the incumbent party will not produce the deep and fundamental changes the country so desperately needs.

To me the issue of Vietnam is overriding. This war must be ended, but the peace and security of the United States and the rest of the world must not be jeopardized by the outcome. Both my recent conversations with Mr. Nixon and his public statements have convinced me that he is capable and will provide the leadership needed to successfully resolve the Vietnam conflict.

His proposals for black capitalism and other positive programs meeting the nation's urban crisis have been widely and justifiably hailed as the most realistic of any candidate's. He understands the nation's economy, and how to manage it soundly. He stands firmly for those measures needed to restore law and order, and at the same time knows there can be no lasting order without progress.

My decision is based pre-eminently on the qualities of the man. I put the qualities of the man first because this, to me, is the primary consideration in the choice of a Presidential nominee. In no other office are personal qualities of judgment, of integrity, of perspective, of balance, of a perceptive understanding of the forces that move the nation and the world so vital.

Richard Nixon has chosen the tough road of the various state primaries, where the people speak, to prove that he is the overwhelming favorite of the Republican rank and file. And also that he is the kind of a winning candidate who can attract Independent and Democratic support.

Richard Nixon has come out of the crucible of political defeat -- a far stronger man, a stronger campaigner, and a stronger potential President. He knows the world leaders, he understands the world problems, and I am convinced on the basis of our conversations that he is committed to the imperative need for a stable and lasting peace.

V-STORES OFFICIAL MAKES NYSSA VISIT

Gordon Yock of Clara City, Minn., chairman of the board of directors for 2600 V-Stores (including some in South Africa and Hawaii) was in Nyssa on Thursday of last week.

Mrs. Mike (Mabelle) McKague, manager of the Nyssa store, said it was Yock's first trip through the northwest, and he seemed to be quite impressed with Nyssa. (He did comment on the 106 degree temperature while here).

NEW

who'd want a new dress if it were just like your old one?

How much fun would be left in fashion if all style were standard? This system would cut down on shopping time. But it would also cut down on your individuality.

In turn, standardization would cut down on advertising, there'd be a cutback in production. And if we worked hard to do so, we might wreck the economy.

Wouldn't we be better off to leave things the way they are? Today's advertising is already policed by the world's smartest detective . . . the American consumer.
