FIRE RAZES ONION SHED AT ORE-IDA

Fire destroyed part of the Ore-Ida Foods, Inc. plant at Ontario Friday night with loss estimated at $200,000 to $250,-000. The building, located at the Northwest corner of the plant complex housed the machinery and equipment for processing fresh onions. It also contained thousands of empty sacks which added to the speed with which the fire progressed.

The Ontario fire department received a call near 9 P.M., that there was a blaze in the office portion of the plant, but upon arrival discovered a much more serious fire in the onion shed. In fact it was out of control at the time with an extremely high wind blowing from the Northwest toward the other buildings, they, along with fire crews from Payette and from Ore-Ida, had a long fight to keep it from spreading to the other buildings.

Fire Chief Bob Prahl said that three Ontario fire trucks and two from Payette were busy on the scene with volunteer firemen and crews from Ore-Ida until 2 A.M., Saturday. Then 12 plant employees patroled the area the rest of the night to, check on any new outbreaks.

MEN INJURED

Three men, including two firemen were injured and sent Nyssan Named to the local hospital for attention. Fire Chief Prahl received Local Contact an eye injury, Larry Holman a serious burn on the arm, and For Retarded Kenneth Grout, an Ore-Ida employee was injured when a ladder slipped and hit him on the head. Quota for the Wednesday drawing is 150 pints of the life-saving fluid. Dr. David W. Sarazin will be on duty during the mobile unit's visit from 2 to 6 p.m. at the Nyssa FOE hall, located at North Third street and Bower avenue. Women of St. Paul's Episcopal church will be in charge of canteen service and members of Girl Scout Cadet troop 99 will be baby sitting. The Jay-C-Ette chairmen remind members of area organizations that the traveling trophy is still being awarded. To be eligible, an organization must have ten or more members, and the trophy is given on a percentage basis of members donating blood at any one drawing. The Nyssa Jaycees have won it once, and members of the Lions club are two-time winners. If there is a threetime winner, that organization gets to keep the trophy. Interested members of the various Nyssa-Adrian area groups are asked to contact Mrs. Gustavson or Mrs. Peery who will supply additional information and register the name of the organization. The women also point out that there is a desperate need of blood for patients who reside in this immediate area. > Jurisdiction of the Malheur County Juvenile Department was changed from the county court to the circuit court July

The transfer of jurisdiction resulted from action in the last session of the Oregon Legislature. First indications are that juvenile violators and their parents will share a greater responsibility for actions contrary to laws of the State of Oregon. Judge Jeff D. Dorroh presided at his first series of juvenile hearings last week. Seven boys and girls, ages 14 to 16, were brought before Malheur's circuit judge on a variety of charges from larceny in a building to possession of alcohol and curfew violations.

FIRST HEARINGS HELD

Commenting on his new job as administrator of the Juvenile Department, Judge Dorroh said enforcement of Oregon's curfew law and violations of alcoholic beverage laws were some of the biggest problems he would face. Judge Dorroh met these problems head-on during his first hearings and rendered some surprising decisions. Two boys brought before the

CURFEW LAW CITED

Judge Dorroh commented that under Oregon curfew law all persons under 18 are to be off the streets by midnight each night. Cities may also have laws posing further restrictions. "Parents need to be more responsible" he pointed out and they can also be prosecuted or fined for permitting curfew violations. He said that all youngsters charged with curfew violations in his first session of hearings were detained by law enforcement officials between the hours of 2 and 3 a.m.
