Official Gives Federal Crop Insurance Data

According to a FCI official, there has been some misunderstanding among farmers concerning Federal Crop Insurance and the harvesting of their insured crops. Some farmers have the impression that they have to harvest their crops to comply with the provisions of the Federal Crop Insurance policy. This is not true. There is nothing in the contract that requires a farmer to harvest his crop or any part of it. If a farmer does not want to harvest a crop the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation Adjuster will make an appraisal for what ever is left in the field and the farmer will be paid on an unharvested basis, deducting the amount of the appraisal from the unharvested guarantee.

Insured farmers must report damage to their crops. When they find that their production will not equal or exceed the FCI guarantee they must report to the District Federal Crop Insurance office immediately or within 15 days upon completion of harvest on the unit. Insureds must also remember that if their wheat does not grade Number 3 or better or Number 4 or 5 on test weight only that they are eligible for an adjustment for quality which will reduce the amount of production counted against the guarantee.
