

TVCC OFFICIALS URGE EARLY REGISTRATION

Area students have the advantage of gaining two years of pre-professional work that is fully transferable to four-year institutions, or which may lead directly to employment, according to a Treasure Valley Community College official.

TVCC offers a personalized approach to education at a minimal cost of $420 for students who are able to live at home. This cost covers tuition, fees and text books for the entire academic year. For out-of-area students and those who are unable to commute, dormitory facilities and food service will be available at reasonable rates.

It may also be of interest to know that registration for fall classes is now underway at the college. Counselors are available to assist with any problems respective to education.

Many structural improvements have been made with respect to curriculum, services and campus buildings, and several new programs have been added to the curriculum.

In the area of student affairs, services have been extended to include co-ordination and emphasis of career job placement and employment opportunities. It is hoped that the new dorm facilities will be completed for fall use.

Registration for fall classes is underway and classes are rapidly filling. To be assured of particular courses, early registration is advisable. College counselors are available to assist by appointment at the students' earliest convenience.

The program provides sufficient time for every student to

Oregon Pamphlet Idaho Power 'Pioneers' Aids Servicemen To Hold Annual Meeting

A legal check list pamphlet, prepared by a committee of Oregon lawyers to aid men entering the service, has proved to be so effective in Oregon that it soon will have nationwide distribution. The Oregon State Bar, which issued the booklet, has now given permission to the American Bar Association to re-publish it and make it available for bar associations in other states to distribute to their service men.

The pamphlet, entitled: "Legal Check List for Men of Oregon Entering the Armed Service of the United States", gives a quick run-down on legal matters affecting the service man. In language he can understand, it gives suggestions on how he can ease the burden on his family and protect his property and other assets. The check list includes 21 items of importance, including insurance, proper use of assets, handling of creditors, payment of taxes, arrangements for dependents, etc. There are also facts regarding his voting privileges while in the service.

In Oregon, the pamphlet is distributed free at induction centers through the cooperation of the Selective Service and the Oregon State Bar. Thousands of copies have already been given out to Oregon servicemen.

Idaho Power Company's "Pioneers" will hold their 16th annual meeting in Boise August 24-25 with a picnic scheduled as the feature event to entertain the utility oldtimers, it was announced Wednesday.

Laurence S. Gossi, Boise, the group's chairman, said nearly 300 of the company veterans from throughout Idaho Power's service area and elsewhere in the U. S. already have registered for the reunion.

The Pioneers include both retired employes and active employes with 25 years or more of service with the company. Gossi said the meeting will open at 10 a.m. with registration at the Downtowner Motel, which will be headquarters for the returning veterans.

The picnic, a traditional part of the reunion and expected to draw the largest crowd, will conclude the opening day's events. It will be held in Municipal Park beginning at 5:30 p.m.

Highlight of the meeting's second day will be a breakfast starting at 8:30 a.m. in the Downtowner ballroom.

Albert Carlsen, Idaho Power president, will be the principal speaker at the breakfast. He will discuss the utility's operations and program of employee benefits.

The company veterans will adjourn after electing new officers.

Gossi said Wilbur Sweet, who retired in 1963 after 40 years with Idaho Power, will travel the greatest distance to attend the reunion. Sweet, an operator at the company's American Falls generating plant when he retired, now lives in Bradenton, Florida.

Gossi is being assisted with arrangements for the meeting by M. C. Ollason, R. E. Mason, Ann Anderson, E. A. Olson, K. M. Egbert, Dale Kinkaid, N. L. Scott and W. F. Carter. Others on the arrangements committee are F. H. Irwin, H. L. Hough, G. C. Young, C. L. Bowen, D. S. Bailey, R. S. Overstreet and C. W. Ryan.
