

FORMER NYSSAN DARLENE (SHEA) GIBSON OF PORTLAND (on right) displays a first-place trophy won in a Nov. 10, 1968 haircutting contest held at the Marion hotel in Salem. Pictured with her is Dixie Wesselink who won her first-place trophy in hairstyling. Both are attending Montavilla Beauty college in Portland, and competed in the contest against students from various schools in Oregon and Washington. Darlene is wearing a knit suit (in this photo) which she won at her school for being top salesman during the month of October, even though she was absent for one week when her husband was killed in an auto accident. Her present plans are to remain in the Rose City to practice as a beautician when she completes her schooling.
