NOEL

Joyful voices singing well-loved carols, telling of the first Noel, guide us to the true spirit of Christmas. May its joys, its divine message be with us, always.

TOWNE GARAGE

Merry Christmas

In the snowy hush of a winter landscape, a church steeple seeks the sky . . . and we see the quiet contentment of Christmas, spreading its joys everywhere. That your joys be many, is our holiday wish for our valued friends and customers.

1968 CHRISTMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN

A Matter of Life and Breath

Over 30,000 Christmas Seal letters were recently mailed to residents of the six-county Eastern Region of the Oregon Tuberculosis and Health Association. The Eastern Region of OTHA serves Baker, Malheur, Morrow, Umatilla, Union and Wallowa counties. This year's Christmas Seal carries a brown and white partridge, golden pear, and lovely green leaf of the pear tree shown in a four unit design on blue and yellow background. The artist used a quail, member of the partridge family, as the central figure for his Partridge in a Pear Tree design. Anthony F. Haberlach, Program Director, Eastern Region office, located in the Social Security building, La Grande, along with local volunteer directors of County Councils in each of the six counties urges everyone to "watch their mailbox" and answer their Christmas Seal letter with a "healthy breath saving contribution. Haberlach pointed out that "your contribution to Christmas Seals will work to combat TB, Emphysema (a cigarette related lung disease) and other respiratory diseases."

Your Tuberculosis Association, has provided Tuberculin Testing Times for tuberculin testing of school children when requested by health departments in the Eastern Region. Over 5,000 school children, on a selected grade basis, have been or will soon be tuberculin tested this current school year in the region. Large 14 x 17 Chest X-rays are provided by the TB Association when requested as tuberculosis follow-up to determine if positive reactors to the tuberculin test are free of active tuberculosis. These large Chest X-rays are provided when there is no other financial source available, to insure that no one will be denied a tuberculosis checkup because of inadequate funds. The Oregon State Board of Health, County Health Department and Welfare offices also provide X-rays in certain instances related to tuberculosis.

The Chest X-ray Mobile Unit, property of the Oregon State Board of Health, and operated by the Tuberculosis Control Section of the Board has given 13,856 small X-rays in the six counties of Eastern Region from February 5 through Oct. 24, 1968. Your tuberculosis association works cooperatively with the Oregon State Board of Health and the County Health Departments, radio stations, newspapers, power companies, police officials and volunteer workers to make pre-arrival mobile unit arrangements. The TB Association strives to notify county residents in the six counties in as many ways as possible when the mobile unit is to be in their area.

Films and health education literature on Tuberculosis, Emphysema, Shortness of Breath and Cigarette Smoking are available year-round through the Eastern Region office, P. O. Box 847, La Grande, Ore., and are requested frequently by people residing in the region. These materials are available for school health education programs, for physicians, nurses and other professional medical fields.

Haberlach said "Ninety-three percent of the Christmas Seal funds raised in the Six counties of the Eastern Region of the Oregon Tuberculosis and Health Association remains in the eastern region for program activities. Only seven percent goes to the National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association headquartered in New York. Christmas Seal contributions also lend financial assistance to research, to raising total health standards as well as TB case-finding activities. "Watch your mailbox", mail your contribution, "It's a Matter of Life and Breath."
