Work Of Youthful Artist On Display

On display in the Nyssa public library are four paintings by a local young artist, Steven Jensen.

Featured are a still-life entitled "Book and Fruit" (1969) and "The Mill" which was completed in 1967. Also displayed are two animal portraits, "Taffy" (1966) and a copy called "Deserted".

Jensen began painting as a student at Nyssa high school. After his graduation in 1965, he attended Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah and then fulfilled a two-year mission for the LDS church.

Steve is currently studying art at BYU, where he is enrolled as a sophomore. The young artist is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Jensen of rural Nyssa.
