

MR. AND MRS. JAMES DAVID MOSIER

Saturday, July 12, 1969 was the wedding date of Miss Vicki Sue DeHaven of Adrian and James David Mosier of Vale. A former Adrian pastor, the Rev. Elmer Rosenkilde, of Nampa performed the double-ring ceremony at two o'clock in the afternoon at Kingman Memorial United Presbyterian church in Adrian.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George DeHaven of Adrian and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest D. Mosier of The Dalles.

Yellow and white chrysanthemums, roses and gladioli were used to decorate the church. Soloist was Ernie Lewis of Homedale, and organist was Mrs. Betty Jean Phifer of the Kingman Colony area near Adrian.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white floor-length gown with overlay of chiffon. The bodice, with empire waistline, was topped with scalloped lace and finger-tip lace sleeves. The A-line skirt was accented with seed pearls and sequins. She wore a shoulder-length veil belonging to her sister, Mrs. Daniel (Carol) Skerjanc Jr. of route 1, Ontario. It was held by a headpiece, fashioned from a single rose and pearls.

On her mother's white Bible, she carried with daisy chrysanthemums and yellow roses.

Attending as matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Skerjanc; while bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Smit of Boise and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Linda Mosier of The Dalles. They were attired in floor-length empire dresses of yellow crepe, with flowing velvet ribbons to match. Their cascading bouquets were of white chrysanthemums and yellow roses.

The bridegroom's twin brother, Bill Mosier of The Dalles served as best man. Groomsmen were Joe Tankersley of Portland and Daniel Skerjanc Jr.

Flower girls were nieces of the bride, Tina and Tami DeHaven of Springfield, wearing A-line frocks of white lace and Leora DeHaven of Chemult, wearing yellow voile.

Candlelighters were the bride's niece, Debbie DeHaven, in a dress of yellow print; and a nephew, Danny DeHaven of Oakridge. Two other nephews, Michael DeHaven of Springfield and Larry DeHaven of Chemult served as ringbearers.

A reception, in the church social hall, followed the ceremony. Assisting were the bride's sister, Mrs. Linda Powell of Sacramento, Calif., her sister-in-law, Mrs. Bruce DeHaven of Springfield, Mrs. Larry DeHaven of Chemult, and Mrs. Joe Wiggins of Vale.
