GRANGE NEWS

Members of Malheur Pomona Grange No. 33 met in regular session August 16 at Willow Creek grange hall, with Master Ira Price presiding.

State Deputy Robert Coble of Richland was escorted to the master's station. He explained the new slaughter-house law and its effect upon small slaughter-house operators.

According to Coble, present grange membership in Oregon is 25,439, a net gain of 1,283 members over last year.

Three resolutions were considered. Two were approved and one was tabled.

During the lecturer's hour, a short history of fans was given by Host Lecturer Ruby Dyal. She stated that the first fans were used by men. A table-display of old fans was arranged by Mrs. Dyal. Slides taken of grange activities during the year were shown by Wilbur Atherton, master of Boulevard grange.

Refreshments were served by the women of Willow Creek grange to thirty-six members from Boulevard, Vale, Willow Creek, Oregon Trail and Eagle Valley.

Next meeting will be Nov. 15, beginning at noon, at the Ontario Heights grange hall. All grangers are urged to attend, whether or not they are Pomona members.
