NYSSA JUNIOR HIGH PLANT-FOOD SALE SCHEDULES ASSEMBLY

Students at Nyssa junior high school will hear about nuclear energy and its peaceful uses October 6 during an assembly program being brought to Nyssa by the University of Oregon Physics Department.

"This Atomic World" will be presented by Roger Tiller, visiting instructor in physics at Oregon. Students will be actively involved in the demonstrations.

Tiller has undergone special training at the world-famous atomic research center in Oak Ridge, Tenn. Previously he taught science at Lincoln junior high school in Burns.

The program gives students an opportunity to learn about the role of the atom in agriculture, industry, and medicine and the growing importance of atomic research.

Tiller will be available also to give talks before science classes and local civic groups.

The traveling exhibit is one of 23 which will visit hundreds of high schools throughout the United States this year.

The Oregon program is sponsored by the University of Oregon in cooperation with Oak Ridge Associated Universities and the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission. The exhibit is made possible by a grant to the University of Oregon by Portland General Electric Company, Pacific & Light Company, and the Eugene Water & Electric Board.

WORK SMARTER - NOT HARDER

DOES WHIPPED MARGARINE have fewer calories than the regular kind? We asked Mrs. Velma Seat, Oregon State University Extension food marketing specialist. She explained that ounce for ounce, you get the same calories in both.

But if you're talking about a tablespoon of each kind, you'll be getting about one-third fewer in the whipped variety. In using margarine at home, we usually measure it by volume rather than by weight.

In whipped margarine, an inert gas is injected into the fat to fluff it up, increase the volume, and help it spread easily. Since you buy it by the pound, you don't need to worry about getting less than you pay for. There are six sticks in a pound package of whipped margarine, compared with four in the regular type.

GRASS STAIN AND SUMMER time go together, but neither is permanent.

Persistence is needed for stubborn stain. The enzyme pre-soak products help. One homemaker told us she soaked stained trousers overnight, but some faint stain could be seen. However, the remaining green finally did come out with a still longer soak. So don't give up too soon.

A long-soak period is contrary to laundry recommendations a short time ago. Now the pre-soak products contain an ingredient which prevents redeposition of soil so that longer soaking is possible.

HOW SAFE IS YOUR OWN back yard? Now, when children play outside, it's wise to make a check for their sake.

Cracked or broken sidewalks are hazards. So are rakes, garden tools and toys left lying around. When you use a sharp tool, be sure the points are in the ground when you lay it down, even for a moment.

Check your clothes line too, if you have one. Is it above head level and out of normal paths of travel across the yard?

Cuts, Minor: Wash with soap under warm running water. Apply mild antiseptic and sterile compress.

Bare Facts

The bare space in this ad was left to accommodate an illustration of flameless heat. We never did receive it from our engraver. He said it was a double exposure. That's good enough for us. We've been exposing flameless heat for a long time now—and perhaps a double effort is in order. Seriously, when we tell you it's the flame that counts in heating, we simply mean that electricity, wonderful and indispensable energy that it is, is not ideal for heating purposes. The character of electric energy does not make it desirable as a heating agent. This affects your pocketbook. Fast-acting natural gas gives you complete control—of heating temperatures. Use the fuel designed by nature for heating excellence. Heat your home with natural gas.

It's the FLAME That Counts!
