Police Report On Vandalisms With B.B. Guns

For the third time in the past two months, the Nyssa Police have been called to the area of Josephensons and Treasure Valley Packing sheds regarding vandalism of one nature or another. On two occassions windshields have been broken in potato and onion trucks. The most recent, involved four windshields that were peppered with B.B. holes.

Parents of children owning B.B. guns should caution them on the use of the guns within the city limits, as Section 5-1-1 of the Nyssa City Code states: It shall be unlawful for any persons to discharge an air gun or to use any bean shooter slingshot or other similar wea pon or device.

In addition, parents should not permit their children to play in or around these areas. Especially during harvest season truck traffic is heavy making this an unsafe place for the chilthis an unsafe place for the children to play.
