

Letters to the Editor

Editor, The Journal:
During the past several weeks every person who has picked up a newspaper in the State of Oregon has been confronted with numerous articles concerning the rebellious actions taken by a minority of youth in the State. The name of youth on a whole in Oregon has suffered a blow because of a series of unnecessary actions that have been instituted by a group that constitutes a small minority of concerned youth.

In the midst of these turbulent uprisings the Oregon State Council Order of the DeMolay held its 42nd annual State Convocation in Pendleton during the first weekend in May. Possible it was ironic that our order gathered where it did, away from the mainstream of turbulence, but gaining front page headlines through unnecessary actions is not an ideal of our order.

The Order of DeMolay prides itself on being able to carry on worthwhile projects such as helping the Shriner's Crippled Children's Hospital and the ever present anti-litter program which is aimed at saving Oregon's beaches and highways. The real meaning of our order is to help each member realize that he is a recognized citizen in an advancing culture.

Therefore, it tends to puzzle me a bit to still only see the radical side of youth represented by the news media. After all, in the end, I wonder which group will lead and which group will follow?

A concerned citizen and DeMolay,

LESLIE GULCH ROAD REPORTED IN GOOD SHAPE
Jake Fischer, Secretary of the Nyssa Chamber of Commerce, and Malheur County Judge Ellis White accompanied Marko Haggard, State Ombudsman and Lt. Wayne Huffman of the Oregon State Police on a tour of Succor Creek and Leslie Gulch. They report that the road just recently completed into Leslie Gulch is graveled and in excellent shape.

Editor, The Journal:
It's Fish Story Time (This was my original, I won a prize for it 30 years ago, when I was a car salesman.)

A barber told a car salesman that he caught an awful big fish and said it was so old that it had grey hairs on its belly.
The car salesman said, "You should have seen the big one I caught; it was as big as a car and from away back, even had a rumble seat on it's back."
Barber: "Yes, but was it's hair grey?"

Car salesman: "I never got it turned over to see if it had grey hair on it's belly, but it was big and old, because in the rumble seat was a wooden-spoke wheel and a clincher rim tire."
The salesman added that he pulled the fish out of deep water onto a raffle and that when the river got high, it formed a dam and changed the river's course.

IN APPRECIATION

We take this opportunity to thank our many friends and neighbors for the flowers, cards, food and many kindnesses expressed in thought and deed, following the death of our loved one, Ora Lee. —Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stites and family.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank all of the people for their time, money, flowers, prayers and food received at the time of the loss of our loved one. We especially thank Rev. Manley for the wonderful sermon. —The Family of Penny Belveal

My thanks and appreciation go out to my many friends and relatives, for the beautiful flowers, cards and gifts, I received during my stay in the hospital. Also, a special thank you to the doctors and nurses for their wonderful care. —Hazel Day.

Deep appreciation is expressed to all friends who sent cards, food and other expressions of sympathy. —Mrs. Mary Nichols and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nichols.

More than 35 concerts a year are offered to the public free of charge by the University of Oregon School of Music in its Recital Hall, in addition to those that tour the state.

GRANGE NEWS

Members of Oregon Trail Grange met in regular session May 7. Officers were seated by assistant stewards Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Metcalf.

Legislative Chairman Frank Sherwood gave a report on state laws governing explosives. He stated that only 18 states have such laws.

Ernie Metcalf reported for Agriculture Chairman Ralph Thomas, who was absent. His report was on the safe use of pesticides.

Harold Kurtz reported on the school budget and urged everyone to vote. Kurtz also mentioned that there were two 4-H livestock clubs in the area without leaders and that anyone interested in leading these 40 youngsters might get in touch with him.

Grange Insurance Agent Wilbur Atherton called attention to a number of booklets which were available and on the display table. One is entitled, "Babysitters Handbook for Emergency Action". It states that babysitting is more than "sitting". Keeping children SAFE is the sitters number one responsibility. The booklet gives tips on answering the phone and door bell, hints in first aid and a home fire escape plan.

W.D. Wilson was given the Fourth Degree obligation and was welcomed as a new member by the grange members.

Pomona CWA Chairman Mrs. Wilbur Atherton reported there would be a judging of cotton dresses at the Oregon Trail Grange May 8.

Lecturer Lois Boenig gave a report on Medic Alert, a charitable, nonprofit, tax-exempt organization that provides medical protection service for persons with hidden medical problems that should be known in case of emergency. Bracelets worn by members of Medic Alert contain information concerning medical problems such as diabetes, heart condition, insect stings, wearing contact lenses to mention a few. A central file in Turlock, Calif., headquarters contains detailed medical information, addresses of physicians, and nearest relative of every member. The information is available to physicians 24 hours a day via collect telephone call.

During the lecturer's program the members were entertained with a song entitled "Neath the Crust of an Old Apple Pie". The four songbirds were Lois Boenig, Lucielle Runcorn, Orma Cleaver and Sadie Metcalf and they pulled some startling objects out of the pie.

Refreshments were served to 27 members by Mrs. W.D. Wilson.

The next regular meeting will be held at 8:30 p.m. May 21. All grange members are urged to attend.

Sen. Packwood Sponsors Three Senate Bills

Senator Bob Packwood (R-Ore.) has agreed to co-sponsor three more environmental bills with Senator Edmund Muskie (D-Maine).

They are:
--The National Air Quality Standards Act of 1970, which would amend the Clean Air Act to require the immediate designation of all anticipated air quality control regions and to extend Federal enforcement authority to intrastate violations of air quality standards;

--The Environmental Quality Act of 1970, which would set up an independent agency to consolidate all the environmental protection programs throughout the Federal government and would monitor the Federal pollution control effort;

--The National Water Quality Standards Act of 1970, which would broaden the coverage of the Water Quality Standards Program, toughen the enforcement of those standards, and double the level of Federal assistance for the construction of treatment facilities. Two of these proposals -- the Air Quality Standards Act and the National Water Quality Standards Act -- have been referred to the Senate Public Works Committee for consideration. Senators Packwood and Muskie are both members of that committee.

"I have found almost everyone in Washington interested in the pollution problems, but there is little coordination and uniformity," Packwood said. "We definitely need a national commitment with all efforts at the Federal level coordinated with those at the local levels."

EMBLEM CLUB ACTIVITIES

Ontario Emblem Club 192 held their business meeting April 27 at 8 p.m. in the Elks Lodge.

President Velma Frazier reported on the Inaugural Ball. Blanche Rowe reported the quota was met at the Blood drawing held April 22.

Delegates were chosen for the convention to be held in June. President Velma Frazier and second vice president Ellen McKinney are first and second delegates. The club voted to send the bowling team as delegates. The four member team consists of Diana Ingalls, Ruth McIntyre, Zena Fritts, and Nellie McDaniel. One more delegate will be nominated at the next business meeting. Refreshments were served by Inez Wilson, Leo Sears, and Donella Bybee. Mary Danilson and Betty Collier received birthday gifts. A no host dinner was held at the Elks Lodge April 26 at 2 p.m. honoring Supreme President Dorothy Babbit and her Supreme Marshall Francis Sharp. Eighteen members attended. A group discussion was held after the dinner. The honored guests were presented a corsage and gift.

TV ASSOCIATION FOR HANDICAPPED MEETS MAY 19

The Treasure Valley Association for Handicapped and Retarded Children, Inc. will meet Tuesday evening, May 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the Education Building located directly behind the Blessed Sacrament Church in Ontario. Students from the Mary Kay School will present a program for the members, parents and friends.

Those planning to attend this meeting should note the time change and don't be late or you may miss the program which will be presented prior to the business meeting.

C of I STUDENTS ATTENDED KNIGHTS CONVENTION

Eighteen College of Idaho students attended a national Intercollegiate Knight Convention in Salt Lake City, Utah April 14-17.

The C of I chapter received three of the four outstanding awards given including the Outstanding Chapter Award, the Efficiency Award and the Scholarship Award.

Steve Yowell, Salmon, was awarded the Royal Guard Award for the chapter. This award is presented to the outstanding member of each chapter. Eight individual scholarship awards were also received by chapter members.

Bob Stephenson, College of Idaho I.K. Duke, from Highland, Calif., was cited as one of the top five dukes.

Students who attended included Bill Martin, Nyssa.

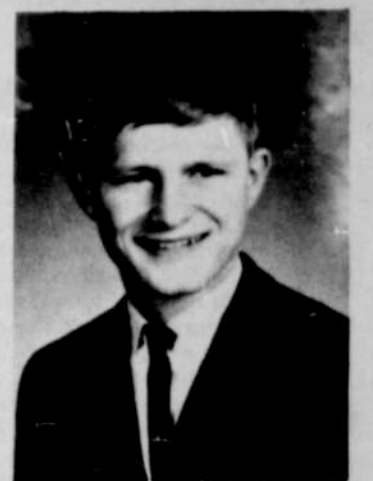

WORK SMARTER - NOT HARDER

BRIDES -- YOU'LL GET praise from your new husband if you practice these ideas for pressing his wool suit. First, make a wool press cloth by sewing a piece of wool fabric about 15 inches by 20 inches to a piece of muslin--a mite longer. To avoid shine, always use this wool side down, when pressing wool garments.

Wrinkles in the upper part of the sleeve can be removed by folding a bath towel to fit inside the shoulder, then press with a steam iron over your wool press cloth.

A fold of paper under the pocket flap will keep the flap from leaving a mark on the coat when pressed.

To remove a slight shine, sponge with warm vinegar or ammonia water. Add one tablespoon of one (not both) of these to a quart of water. If this doesn't do the job, rub the surface gently with double 00 sandpaper. Use a swirling motion.

Ron Strasser

Word was received that Ron Strasser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norm Strasser is the recipient of a $1,724 scholarship, from the Oregon State Scholarship, Oregon Educational Grant and Work Study.

Ron is in his senior year and is majoring in Art and German.
