Senior Citizens Rummage Sale Proves Successful

The Senior Citizens of Nyssa have ended another successful rummage sale and wish to extend their appreciation for the many courtesies rendered to make it possible.

Many thanks for the clothing donated from the community, signs and paper bags from Wilson's Market, the usual generous publicity from the Gate City Journal and KSHV.

Thanks to the Louis Marquez family for the use of their building rent free during the ten days of the sale.

It is worth noting that the cashier during the ten days was Mrs. Elizabeth Shaughnessy. She never made an error. She is 91 years old.

New AOI Building

NEW HOME of Associated Oregon Industries will be situated on Court Street in Salem adjacent to Capitol Mall complex. Ground-breaking for one-story, $172,000 structure is scheduled for November with completion due the middle of the next year. Relocation will move eight-member staff and secretarial assistants from Portland to Salem. AOI and predecessor organization have headquartered in Portland since 1913.

AOI is a statewide organization of employers who employ more than half of the state's total labor force. It is dedicated to Oregon's economic development, specifically, and improved livability, generally.

BIG GAME RULE BOOKS AT DEALERS

Big game hunting regulations booklets are now available. Hunters wishing to obtain these rules may do so at license dealers. All big game seasons for 1970 are listed in the booklet as well as rules on arms and ammunition, possession and transportation of game animals, general regulations and others.

Hunters who wish to file applications must be received at the Commission's Portland headquarters by 5 p.m. on the filing deadline date.

This rule does not mean that hunters cannot file applications after the deadline, but with the great interest in the special tags and permits it is doubtful that late applications will have much chance. According to the rules, only if surplus tags and permits are available following the drawings will the late applications be considered.

It's a good idea to divide home pools by depth lines. Swimmers suddenly finding themselves in over their heads may be in more than just deep water.
