

MOORES TO CELEBRATE GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moore will be guests of honor Sunday, August 23, at their home in Nyssa, 725 North Second street, to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary. Open-house will start at two o'clock with hosts being their children, Mrs. Glen Murray of Twentynine Palms, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Tom Moore and children of Salinas, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Willis Zeman of Aberdeen, Wash., and Mrs. Wanda Crane of Seattle, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore were married August 22, 1920, in Gentry, Ark., and are both retired ministers. They would like their friends to call on them Sunday but request no gifts.

SUMMER READING ENDS AUGUST 31

Students who are registered in the reading program at the Nyssa Public Library should read the minimum of ten books so that the cards of record can be presented to them in school this year.

The Theme presented this year is "Big Cheif" with a colorful headress to be filled with "feathers" -- a feather for each book read.

Anyone in Nyssa or areas near can enjoy the library. Drop in for the rest of this month with the 4 to 8 year olds at 10 a.m. on Thursday for Storytime. Jeanine Saito and Barbara Patterson always have surprises for the children. This will give mom a chance for the last minute shopping, or browsing in the library.

Patrons will be glad to know of the record collection for circulation. A list will be given the Journal for publication.

Need For Sailors In The Army's Navy

Hatches are windows, hawfers are ropes, port is left, and starboard, right. Talk from an old salt? Definitely, if he's an Army Seaman.

Located at Fort Eustis, Virginia, the U.S. Army Transportation School seeks to instill a respect for the sea and an awareness of its ways to the students who attend the course. The two weeks of instruction, which follow eight weeks of Basic Combat Training, provides enlistees with a good working knowledge of a seaman's responsibilities and duties on varied U.S. Army amphibians and watercraft.

To successfully complete the course, the student must be familiar with vessels, knots and hitches, lifeboat handling techniques, swimming, emergency procedures, handtools, safety firefighting, user maintenance, navigational aids, and rules of the road. A training cruise concludes the course.

To find out more about this and the many other fields available to young men and women in today's modern Army, see Sgt. John Mathews at Ontario. His hours are from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. on Saturday. He'll be glad to aid you in your decision.

EASTERN OREGON AFL-CIO MEETS AT BEND AUGUST 29

Representatives of five eastern Oregon AFL-CIO county and area labor councils, several statewide union associations and other units making up the eastern half of the Oregon AFL-CIO Second Congressional District Committee on Education (COPE) will meet in the labor temple here at Bend beginning at 1 p.m., Saturday, August 29.

Edward J. Whelan, state AFL-CIO president and also president of state COPE said that the group would make recommendations to the September 16th state COPE convention concerning state ballot measures, congressman, statewide offices and

Coons Kill 25 Chickens

By Dale Witt

Mrs. Dale Witt called at the L.C. McDermott home Friday afternoon. When she asked Mrs. McDermott how her chickens were doing Mrs. McDermott told her the coons had killed 25 hens about six weeks ago.

The chickens were allowed to run loose in the grass and weeds and when Mrs. McDermott found some dead, she thought they must have been sick. She then discovered two young coons sitting in her barn where she keeps her hens. She locked them in, and next morning the screen was torn open and they were gone. Mrs. McDermott decided the mother came back for her young. Mrs. McDermott said she has not seen the coons since.

MEMORIALS CAN BE MADE TO CANCER SOCIETY

Many calls are received daily, concerning, "How does a person make a memorial to the American Cancer Society?"

This is an important part of the Oregon Cancer Control Program as well as in Malheur County. Funds so given go to research, education and service and represent almost one-fourth of the total funds received each year.

A check is made out to the American Cancer Society for the amount the donor wishes to contribute, and mailed promptly to Eleanor Hartwell, chairman, Box D, Ontario, Ore. Along with this check should be enclosed a note giving the name of the person for whom the memorial is made, the name and address of the family to whom an acknowledgment card will be sent (the amount of the gift is not disclosed), and the name and address of the donor in order that he will receive a receipt.

"Last year our receipts totaled $665.90 but I believe they will be greater this year," said Mrs. Hartwell. "Anyone receiving a memorial should send it to me promptly so cards and receipts can be sent out without delay. This will be greatly appreciated by myself as well as the family."

Special contribution envelopes can be obtained by phoning or writing to Mrs. Hartwell.

Work Smarter - Not Harder

Washable polyester knit dresses now come in varying weights. Be sure to read, keep and follow the washing directions on the hang tag.

Lightweight knits usually need to be laid flat on a towel and shaped for drying. Hanging, while wet, is likely to pull them out of shape. Heavier knits dry satisfactorily when hung on a plastic hanger or just put in a dryer, but be sure not to overdry.

Men's shirts, in handsome deep colors, get oily stains and rings around the collars, just as do white ones.

Pre-treat heavily soiled collars and cuffs by saturating with liquid detergent or with a paste made from dry detergent and water. In a few cases, you may need to treat the oil line with a dry cleaning solvent safe for the dye; then wash as usual for durable press fabrics.

CARDBOARD BOXES PLUS

plastic draperies are the ingredients for inexpensive storage walls. For reinforcement, glue layers of cardboard together to make strong upright and horizontal supports.

Plastic draperies are an inexpensive form of vinyl film, according to Dorothy Brown, Oregon State University home furnishing specialist. The main differences between the drapery vinyl and the self-adhesive version are the glue and the price.

If the cardboard is not smooth, secure a layer of smooth wrapping paper over the surface before gluing on the plastic material, or buy draperies with pebbly texture.

Covered cardboard boxes also come in handy for toys, closet organizers, and all kinds of storage.

DON'T BE A STATISTIC. Staying home doesn't always keep you out of danger. Last year, 27,000 people in the United States were accidentally killed while at home. Among people 65 and over, half of all fatal accidents were due to falls.

Young people may need to help parents realize that potential hazards exist in their homes. An Extension bulletin, "Homes for Senior Citizens," includes a check list for examining the safety of a dwelling. It's free from your county Extension Agent.

HIDDEN DUST AND DIRT may be costing you unnecessary expense for service of appliances. Air conditioner filters get blocked with lint and dust. Check the instruction manual for instructions in changing or cleaning the filter.

Built-up dust on the coils, back and beneath refrigerators and freezers can lead to operating problems. Clean in these places periodically with a brush or vacuum cleaner.

GET THE MOST BREAD FOR your money. The standard white, store brand, large 22 1/2 oz. size costs the least per slice. For a national brand the same size, expect to pay a little more.

The less expensive brands may not be enriched so better check the label. Bread enrichment is not mandatory in Oregon. When enriched, the food value approximates that naturally found in whole wheat bread.
