Stork Visits Nyssa With Labor Day Gift

Labor Day proved to be quite "laborful" and exciting for Mrs. Donna Blackburn when she gave birth to an eight-pound baby girl, Lisa Jane. A few anxious moments were also felt by Larry Blackburn, Lisa's father, when his car refused to start and he was forced to call for assistance from a friend, Dale Schraufnaegel.

Blackburn instructs students at Nyssa High School in U.S. History and Family Living classes. Mrs. Blackburn, a former NHS teacher, instructed German and freshmen and sophomore English classes. The Blackburns and their son, Taft, recently moved into a new home. With the arrival of Lisa Jane, their summer has been made doubly special.

Onion Growers Meet Idaho-Eastern Oregon

The Idaho-Eastern Oregon Onion Marketing Order Committee met last week in Payette, under the chairmanship of Lyle Andrews. Warren Henninger, Malheur County Extension Agent, said a review of the overall late summer onion production potentials was made. The production forecast of the late summer onion crop released by the USDA on August 7th shows the crop to be the largest on record with a 7 percent nationwide increase over a year ago. New York State shows an increase in acreage for 1970 and about a 1/4 increase in production. Michigan shows about a 10 percent increase in production increases are also shown in Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Utah. This Idaho-Oregon district shows about a 4 percent increase. The total summer onion production is set at 21,403,000 cwt. This compares to 19,928,000 cwt in 1969. The indicated production figure for this Idaho-Oregon district is set at 3,960,000 cwt. compared to 3,818,000 for 1969.

Onion shipments from this area were reported to be down. The total carlot shipments of onions as of September 8 is 199 compared to 651 carlots up to this same time a year ago. The demand for this area's onion is fair, with the market being steady, said Henninger. F.O.B. price for U.S. No. 1 yellow spanish onions 3 inches and larger is $1.50 for a 50lb. sack.

In the interest of the onion industry of this district the Idaho-Eastern Oregon Marketing Order Committee is asking for the following changes in the 1970/71 onion marketing order regulations for yellow onions shipped from this district: the minimum size for U.S. No. 1 yellow to be changed from 2 inch minimum to 2 1/4 inch minimum size. The minimum size for U.S. No. 2 yellows to be changed from 2 inch minimum to 3 inch minimum. This means that all U.S. No. 2 mediums will be eliminated from the market, said Henninger.

This recommendation made by the Idaho-Eastern Oregon Onion Marketing Order Committee is subject to the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture. Henninger said all indications are that these new regulations should be in force sometime around the end of next week. It is the hope of the marketing order committee that these new regulations will assist the onion industry of this area in successful marketing of the yellow sweet spanish onions.

TVCC OFFERS COURSE IN COSMOTOLOGY

It is now possible for someone interested to earn an associate degree and prepare for a cosmetology license at the same time.

In a joint statement issued by Dave Matthews, owner of Western Beauty College, and Emery Skinner, president of TVCC, it was announced that the two schools are joining forces in providing a new opportunity for persons interested in gaining the skills necessary for the preparation of an Oregon State Board of Cosmetic Therapy examination and subsequent licensing and meeting requirements for an associate of science degree in business.

It was also pointed out by Earl McCollum, Director of Occupational Education, that the vocational education division of the Oregon Board of Education has given its approval to this arrangement in a precedent setting move. No other community college in Oregon has such an offering.

Persons interested in further information should contact either McCollum or Dick DeBisschop, registrar at TVCC, or Jack Craner, Counselor for Western Beauty College. Craner can be reached at Hollywood Beauty College in Boise by phoning 343-7744.

AAUW Meets At Steffens Residence

First meeting of the Ontario Branch of American Association of University Women met at the home of Mrs. Charles Steffens in Nyssa, for dinner Monday, September 14.
