

Hometown News

Saturday night, September 19 Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wernick and Mrs. Glenn Marcum attended the 75th anniversary of the Burns Chapter #40 Order of Eastern Star at Burns.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wernick, Mrs. Glenn Marcum and Mr. and Mrs. George Cartwright of Adrian attended the Eastern Central Oregon Association meeting at Bend September 20.

Stephanie Wilson returned home September 17. She and a sorority sister, Gail Vines of Portland spent eight days in Hawaii vacationing and sight-seeing.

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Towne, September 16 were her brother, Clarence Mull of Boise and nephew, John Mull, who is on leave from Vietnam. John will be stationed in Germany when he returns to duty. Marcia Packard, a niece from Oakridge, Oregon was also a visitor.

Houseguest of Mrs. Blanche Weeks is her grandson, Steven Weeks who has just returned from Vietnam. He will be here for several days visiting friends and relatives in the area.

Dirick Nedry and daughter, Janet drove to Eugene over the weekend where she will attend school at the University of Ore.

Janet is living with her sister, Judy who is employed at The Springfield News in Springfield. Nedry returned via Portland where he attended the Oregon State vs. Iowa football game Saturday night with brother-in-law, Dr. Vernon Casterline of Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. John Harlow of Council Bluffs, Iowa, visited last week in Nyssa at the home of her aunt, Miss Gertrude Allmon. The Harlows were enroute to Nampa where their son, Joe is enrolling as a Freshman at Northwest Nazarene College.

Herb Sez ...

A couple of weeks ago my wife and I camped out under the stars. We only do this once in a while so our camping facilities are rather meager but we think they're adequate. We just toss a couple of bedrolls, grub and a motely assortment of other creature comforts into the pickup and away we go.

It doesn't take much of a campsite to please us, trees, running water, a few rocks for a fire pit and firewood and we're all set. We try to get the pickup as level as possible because we inflate a couple of air mattresses and put them in the truck bed and lay our sleeping bags on them.

We gallivant around the area for awhile, take a nap then prowling some more, eat and take a nap then wonder where the time went. It's about time to blow up the air mattresses and this is a simple matter except for one thing -- no pump. Well it was about time for me to test my heart and lungs anyway. I blew and I blew until the plastic gizmos were nice and tight. I think I got a little purple in the face but my heart didn't give out and I was still able to breathe so I guess I'm not entirely over the hill. Then came the problem of fixing the bedrolls. You know something, I hate zippers. Any how there were our nice beds nice and comfy and we were ready for them.

We like to sleep under the stars. We can see them appearing one by one. The skyline was silhouetted with stately pine and fir trees. All was snug with the world, we were right and comfortable. Peace reigned. Then we noticed the slow leak in the mattresses. This dampened our joys just a little bit but not nearly as much as the dew dampened our clothes. That truck bed was sure hard, but we did sleep and after standing around for awhile in the morning we were able to move without whimpering.

The fire was started and the wife yelled, "Where's the frying pans?" That was a mighty good question. We finally figured out that the pans were still on our back porch at home. My Ruth is most resourceful, we did have bacon and eggs. She made the cooking utensils out of aluminum foil -- thereby saving the day.

We did enjoy our outing, we were slightly miserable at times but were happy. The trip was wonderful and it taught us one thing: our bed at home is a thing of beauty and a joy forever.

Mrs. Alice Franklin of Paramount, Calif., has been visiting in the home of Mrs. L.M. Buckley for the past three weeks. She will return home September 18. Mrs. Buckley and Mrs. Franklin attended the wedding of Lynda Cundall and Mike Roberts in Ashland August 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Keck and infant son of Logan, Utah, visited Tuesday and Wednesday at the home of Keck's grandmother, Mrs. A.H. Keck.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Tensen and daughter, Barbie spent the weekend in Portland and Corvallis. While in Portland they attended the Oregon State University vs. Iowa football game. Barbie stayed in Corvallis where she is a sophomore at OSU and also a member of the Talons.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Morgan and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Larson attended the OSU - Iowa football game in Portland Saturday. They returned home through Corvallis where they visited Larson's cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wray and family on Sunday.

Mrs. Charlot Walker of Roseburg returned home Saturday after spending two weeks visiting at the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Robb, and with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barnes.

Orma Cleaver was a Wednesday overnight guest at the home of Mrs. Mildred Estrick in Meridian.

Mr. and Mrs. Brian Cleaver left Saturday for Corvallis where Brian is a senior at Oregon State University.

C of I Offers Market Course

A non-credit course in the stock market will be offered at The College of Idaho with R.C. Pasley of Boise as instructor, beginning Oct. 13.

The nine-week course, which is being offered for the third year in the C of I evening program is scheduled for Tuesday evenings from 7:30 - 9 p.m. at a cost of $25 per person or $40 per married couple.

The class covers such areas as investment objectives, the New York stock exchange and the broker, basic methods of investing, investing for income and for growth, how to read the financial news and speculation. Pasley is a stock broker with the Schwabacher division of Blair and Company in Boise.

Registration for the class will be at the first regular evening session, Oct. 13, in Strahorn Hall, room 315, on the C of I campus.

INCREDIBLE IDAHO GOES TO DOGS

"Incredible Idaho" has gone to the dogs.

This is not something new, because the dogs have been subscribing to this state publication since the first issue. However, it failed to come to the editor's attention until the dogs renewed their subscription the other day.

"Incredible Idaho", subscription No. 1881, actually goes to Simpson's School for Dogs at Danville, California.

The fall issue of "Incredible Idaho", which will be available early in October, should certainly have great eye-appeal with its herd of Herefords coming in from the range on the front cover and the little boy asleep among the pumpkins on the back cover.

(Simpson's School also subscribes to the Gate City Journal.)

Graphoanalysts Hold Study Period

Graphoanalysts from Ontario, and Nyssa, Oregon, Golden-dale and Richland, Washington, met at the Moore Hotel for dinner Monday evening, September 21, with a discussion and study period following.

The study material concerned the handwriting of a boy, 15, who was having problems in learning and in adjusting to teachers and schoolmates. The material is furnished each month by IGAS, Chicago.

LEGAL SECRETARY'S TO MEET

The first regular fall meeting of the Malheur County Legal Secretary's Association will be held September 28, at 7:30 p.m. at the Palomino Cafe in Ontario.

All members are cordially invited to attend. Any secretary employed in the legal field, law enforcement field or Land Title Insurance agency in Malheur County is cordially invited. Billy L. Willis, publicity.

Keith Moss Loses Fingers In Accident

Keith Moss, 59, of Nyssa, lost two fingers and damaged a third on his right hand Thursday.

He and his son-in-law, Carl Barnes, were cutting silage corn when the machine became clogged. After shutting off the equipment and waiting several minutes until it was quiet, Moss reached in to loosen a clog. The blade was still going and injured his hand.

Carl and Mrs. Moss rushed him to Malheur Memorial Hospital where he spent the night. He is now home and resting comfortably.
