INCREDIBLE IDAHO WINTER ISSUE OUT

The winter issue of our state's INCREDIBLE IDAHO magazine is just off the press, featuring Idaho winter recreation: skiing at Grand Targhee, snowmobile racing the spectacular Winter Carnival at McCall and the state's newest snowmobile area -- Smiths Ferry East, according to Dorine Goertzen, editor of the magazine produced by the Idaho Department of Commerce and Development.

"What Bounty in a Silly Snowflake" is portrayed by Neil Sampson, and Pat Benson writes of Idaho's cougar in "High Country Lords." Humorous articles deal with "What to Do with a Goatskin Rug" by Patricia E. Huebner of Idaho Falls, while Vic Durden of New Meadows, in his inimitable style tells the story of "The Mountain Cowmen".

Saxon White' Uberuaga of Emmett, recounts her experiences in Idaho's backcountry working for the Forest Service. It took Neva Shuck of White Bird, to assemble and write of the life of that community's pioneer doctor -- Wilton A. Foskett, M.D.

Interpersed throughout the magazine are beautiful full-color photos by Spike Baker of Boise, Neil Sampson of Boise, Coy Poe of Ketchum, Pat Benson of Boise, Bob H. Fogg of McCall, and Joe Leonard of Boise. It contains nearly 50 black and white pictures ranging from a St. Bernard riding a snowmobile to Aunt Fannie and her cat, as well as drawings by Tom Jacobs of Boise and Ralph Harris of Hailey.

Palmer of Parma went to Boise Saturday and met and visited the former's mother, Mrs. Nellie Stewart of Buhl. They had spent the Christmas holiday in California. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stewart visited Dr. and Mrs. Dave Billings in Alameda, and Mrs. Nellie Stewart visited Dr. and Mrs. Carl Stokler at Fresno. They were enroute to their home in Buhl.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rhodes gave a birthday party Saturday evening celebrating her daughter, Elizabeth's seventh birthday, and her grandfather, Paul Geherke's birthday which was Saturday. The celebration also included her grandmother, Mrs. Geherke's birthday which was Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Barnes spent the New Years Holiday at Hermiston at the Marion Finch home.

Mrs. Gerrit Timmerman visited Mrs. Lydia Worden Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Lydia Worden called on Mrs. Tina Schiemer Thursday afternoon.

C.B. Hill was an overnight guest at the home of his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Fine in Caldwell New Years Eve, and a New Years dinner guest in the Fine home.
