WORK SMARTER - NOT HARDER

CRANBERRY JUICE spilled on linens or clothing should be treated as quickly as possible by soaking in cool water for a few minutes. Then stretch the fabric over a bowl and pour boiling water through the stain area. Next, wash in hot, sudsy water. If safe for the fabric, use chlorine bleach in the wash water.

COFFEE on carpet. Sponge stain immediately with a solution of 1 teaspoon vinegar, 1 teaspoon mild detergent (not soap) and 1 quart water. Blot up as much moisture as possible with clean white terry towels or paper towels. If coffee contained cream, apply dry cleaner, also. Place several thicknesses of clean white cloth or paper towels over spot and weight down with a stack of books. It's important to work quickly.
