Bertrams' Trip Includes Variety Of Entertainment

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Bertram returned recently from a two-weeks trip to southern California.

Going via Salt Lake, they were overnight guests with Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Widdison in Hooper, Utah.

Several days were spent in Las Vegas seeing the sights and taking in many entertainment spots, the most outstanding of which was the Lido of Paris show at the Stardust; Liberace at Ceseair's Palace; and the Orrin Tucker dance band at the top of the Dunes Hotel. They were also fortunate in getting to watch two days of the qualifying rounds of the Professional Bowlers Association winter tour tournament at the Showboat Lanes, which was later televised.

In and around Los Angeles, they visited two of Mrs. Bertram's uncles and their families and also called on a school-mate and former Nyssan, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ginder (nee Phyllis Schireman) and daughter, Carol.

They took a tour of the Universal City Studios; saw the LaBrea Tar Pits; visited Disneyland; and went through the Movieland exhibits of Planes of Fame and Cars of the Stars.

Planning to play golf on the Torrey Pines Municipal Course, they were surprised to learn that the Andy Williams San Diego Open was being played there at that time, so they took in one day of watching the professional golfers they previously only got to see on T.V.

They also visited the Lion Country Safari. To see this, you have to drive your car, with windows rolled up, through the "pastures" of all kinds of animals who roam about freely in a natural habitat. Animals who are "enemies" of one another are kept separate by strategically placed fences or water barriers. Many Safari guards in Jeeps were situated in numerous places.

One day was spent in Tijuana where there is such a distinct difference in all things between the United States and Mexico.

The Bertrams started on their way home via Palm Springs where they enjoyed seeing the sunshine and the arid climate similar to here for the first time since they had gotten into the awful smog many days previous at San Bernardino, upon entering the Los Angeles area.

They also report they had to travel through smog and fog clear from Riverside past Sacramento, over 400 miles, coming home. Needless to say, it was an enjoyable trip but they are glad to be back in the sunshine and clean air.

Michael and Patricia Stephen of Vale spent the week end with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Stephen.

The women from the Oregon Trail Grange served the lunch Saturday at the Chedelin farm sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stephens visited the Art Norland family in Caldwell Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mosso and family of Payette were Saturday overnight guests and were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stephens.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Durfee attended the All-Married Dinner-Dance at the Stake House in Nyssa Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Haile and Jed of Apple Valley visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Durfee.

Malheur Community Concert

ROBERT DE CORMIER FOLK SINGERS

The Robert DeCormier Folk Singers will appear for the Malheur Community Concert Sunday, February 14 at 3 p.m. at the Ontario High School Auditorium.

Billed as a thoroughly professional, marvelously disciplined organization, achieving a splendid vocal blend, and liberally sprinkled with superior solo voices; the group promises to entertain with a diversity of songs which will delight the audience.

Robert DeCormier formerly directed and scored for Harry Belafonte. He has done a great deal of composition and musical research, as well as arranging all kinds of folk music.

A reception is planned for the entire membership in the foyer after the Sunday afternoon concert.

Firemen Summoned

Nyssa Firemen were called to the Cliff Main residence at 414 N. 4th Street in Nyssa Monday evening. Kent Main had been working on his 1970 Bronco car in the garage when the car caught fire. Kent got the car out of the garage and he was not burned.

Extensive damage was done to the wiring, hoses, engine and hood, but there was no other damage to the garage or other buildings.
