TVCC Budget Election

Treasure Valley Community College seeks approval on their 1971-72 operating budget at an election Friday, February 19. Nyssa voters will go to the polls at the Multi-purpose room of the Primary Building, and Adrian residents will vote at the Adrian Elementary School.

The college administration and board have had a rather difficult few months in view of the controversy which has arisen over the OEO Migrant program. These difficulties have somewhat obscured the fact that life goes on and the college is still in business doing what it is supposed to be doing, educating our young people.

As the facts have come out on this controversy it has become increasingly evident that the college board has stood firm in face of demands by an activist group whose main purpose seems to have aims contrary to that of education. In standing firm, the college has gained support from farm and business groups throughout the TVCC district.

The Treasure Valley Community College administration and Budget Committee have kept their promise to operate the college next year within the limits set last year. The levy we are asked to approve will be down considerably from the current levy, or about $2.60 per $1,000 as against the current levy of $2.93.

In studying the proposed budget, we see no significant areas where further cuts can be made. We intend to support the budget, and hope that the college can get on with its work. Won't you go to the polls Friday, and whatever your beliefs, back up your best judgment with your vote.

Basketball Fans - Good Sports

Nyssa basketball fans had the good fortune to witness two exciting games last Friday and Saturday evening. Both were wins over very good competitors, Bishop Kelly and Emmett. Our young basketball team has an admirable record to date, with eleven wins and only five defeats.

The win Friday night over Bishop Kelly was particularly pleasing because it marked the first victory Nyssa has scored over Kelly since competition began, and Kelly is leading the SRV league. The game was well-played and well-officiated.

Saturday night's win over Emmett was even more exciting, because the Bulldogs had to come from far behind and pour it on in the last quarter for victory. The game was much more ragged, and perhaps because of that, so was the officiating. However, Emmett was called for 21 fouls to 20 for Nyssa, so the referees were impartial -- as they must be.

This leads up to a very unpleasant distraction at the game -- needless and unsportsmanlike BOOING. Surely we Nyssa fans who have suffered through so many losing seasons can adjust and learn to be gracious in winning.

Basketball is an explosive game, and it is only human nature to express dismay when a foul is called or an error is made which seems to go against the home team. We all do it and it's part of the show.

It isn't part of the show to participate in continuous booing, and it certainly isn't good sportsmanship to cheer and carry on when an opposing player is at the foul line. We can get a bad reputation in a hurry.

Perhaps before it's too late we fans can learn to be good winners and good sports, like the boys who represent us so ably on the floor.

Emma Householder

Mrs. Emma Lois Householder, 81, a long-time resident of Malheur County, died February 13 at Malheur Memorial Hospital. She was born August 15, 1899 at Rocky Bar, Idaho. Her parents were Otto and Margaret Schweizer pioneers of the Owyhee Valley having taken a homestead there in 1881. Emma grew up and attended school at Owyhee and later finished her education at Salem. Returning home she later served as court reporter and secretary to a law firm at Vale. She was united in marriage to Henry Lee Householder, September 30, 1918 at Weiser. She lived her entire life in Malheur County and near by in Idaho. They were engaged in the sheep business, mining and farming. She had great pride in family and friends, was a ready friend to those less fortunate, loved music, and tried for perfection in even the smallest task. She lived alone until 79 years of age. Sickness forced her to live at Malheur Memorial Rest Home the last two years of her life. Survivors include two brothers, Charles Schweizer of Vale and George Schweizer, Ontario. She was preceded in death by her husband, Henry Lee Householder, October 5, 1961; her parents and four sisters, Carrie and Mabel in Detroit, Michigan and Gertrude and Ruth of Owyhee; three brothers, John, Fred, and Otto, Jr. also of the Owyhee area. ADRIAN CHURCH HOLDS REGULAR MEET

Members of the Women's Association of the Adrian Community Church met Thursday with Mrs. K.I. Peterson. Mrs. Raymond Wilson was in charge of Devotionals. There were 18 attending. Mrs. Wilson read an autobiographical article about Fanny J. Crosby who was a poet and wrote the lyrics to many hymns, the most prominent being, "Blessed Assurance," "Saved By Grace," and "Pass Me Not, Oh Gentle Savior." She lived to be 94 years old, and even though she was blind, had an active life. Due to the absence of Mrs. Julian Laca, who was ill, the program was given by Mrs. Marie Moore. She reviewed the book, "Real Greatness". Mrs. Peterson reported that the sewing project was nearly finished. The articles that were made for the Presbyterian Nursing Home in Ontario, were collected. Next meeting will be held March 11 at the home of Mrs. Leroy Bennett in Big Bend.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Journal:
One of the greatest difficulties encountered by an alumni organization is that of keeping addresses current. Our Southern Oregon College Alumni Association officers are presently planning a series of reunions and find addresses lacking for approximately 2,000 former students. Under Association Policy, persons who have attended the college at any time since its founding are eligible to receive alumni publications, enjoy placement office services, assist in development, and participate in Alumni activities. Those wishing to be placed on the mailing list are asked to send names and addresses, class years or year last attended, to Alumni Association, Southern Oregon College, Ashland, Oregon 97520. Married women should also include maiden names in order that our records may be kept up to date. Thank you so much for printing this request in your paper. It is a public service which all of us deeply appreciate. Yours very truly, Hugh G. Simpson
Director of Public Services
Southern Oregon College

Editor, The Journal:
Please renew my subscription to your paper for another year. I grew up in Adrian. All my former classmates will know me as Ada Pearl West, and this past year have been enjoying reading about former friends and neighbors. It has been 10 years since I have been home but hope to make a "Sentimental Journey" to your area this summer. Sincerely, Mrs. Pearl Stephenson

OUT OF THE PAST

10 YEARS AGO

Water supply outlook for 1961 irrigation in Malheur County has not improved and has changed for the worse since the prediction of "improved but skimpy" supplies was made one month ago. Lack of normal carry-over storage water in local reservoirs has a further dimming effect on the outlook. Water content of the mountain snowpack is exceptionally low--40 percent of the average amount (15 years, 1943-57)--usually present on the upper watersheds by this date, but only two-thirds as much as measured a year ago. One of the largest business transactions in Malheur County for several months became effective Feb. 15 when the George Beechler Funeral Home of Ontario and Vale were sold. Purchasers were Bert Lienkaemper, his son, John Lienkaemper, Nyssa and Robert Bertelson, Ontario. Miss Lena Kalaya was guest speaker Tuesday evening at the regular session of advanced adult tailoring class. She showed garments made by her dressmaker in Greece and explained that private dressmakers have a book from which the customer may choose a style. The dressmaker then cuts the garment out without a pattern. All interior seams are hand finished so there are no raw edges. Singer machine (treadle type) is the most popular type in her country. Miss Kalaya believes that styles in Greece are about a year ahead of those in the United States and credits this to the fact that it is nearer Paris.

20 YEARS AGO

The Malheur Telephone Company completed placing its new cable into Adrian Wednesday. The cable is actually in service to a point one mile north of Owyhee corner. As the splicers are able, they will extend the service toward Adrian. So far as Nyssa is concerned, movement of mail and freight is virtually back to normal today, despite a limited restriction due to the railroad switchmen's strike. A pantomime, based on the Order of the Arrow, was presented by Explorer Post No. 45 of Nyssa at the Boy Scout Show held in the old Nyssa Gymnasium last Saturday. Those participating were Billy Leseberg, Max Terry, Kay Riggs, Gary Leavitt, Lynn Ray, Stan Thompson and Gene Servoss. Edward Topflich, George Cleaver and La Vern Cleaver had a phone installed the past week. If the inflow into the Owyhee reservoir continues at its present rate, the bureau of reclamation will start releasing water from the lake this week end, according to information issued by Paul House, irrigation manager of the project. This is the first year the reservoir will have filled since 1946.

The Nyssa Lion's Club is sponsoring a benefit dance to be held March 1, for the local victims of infantile paralysis. The victims are Marion Osborn, age 17, a student of Nyssa High School. He has complete paralysis of the lower extremities, abdominal, back and shoulder muscles. He was moved to Immanuel Hospital in Portland. Betty Niccum, Nyssa grade school student, was paralyzed in both lower extremities. She is in the Shrine Hospital in Portland. Her family lives in Cow Hollow. Pattie Langton, age 7, suffered paralysis of the left shoulder. She is in the Shrine Hospital also. All are improving with the proper care and exercise under the direction of specialists. Howard Smith, 23, is being cared for in Nyssa. He has partial paralysis of both legs and is unable to get about. He is at the present time helping to support his family by making hot dish pads and similar articles which are being sold on a non-profit basis by local merchants.

The De Bord children had an accident Monday evening while traveling home from school in which nothing was injured except the buggy shafts, which were "smashed to smithereens." The horse's reputation was also damaged somewhat. The Black Cannon Dam will be built in the Payette River five miles northeast of Emmett at a cost of $1,000,000, and this fact means a new era of great development not only for the Emmett District, but the Black Canyon irrigation district and all the towns tributary to it; namely, Middleton, Caldwell, Notus, Parma, Nyssa, Ontario, Payette, Fruitland and New Plymouth. It is expected that work on the dam will commence about the first of next June, and that about two years will be required to complete it. Thirty six thousand acres can thus be irrigated by gravity and twenty thousand acres by pumping water. The mail carrier between Ontario and Nyssa has been unable to make part of his route since Wednesday on account of bad roads.
