We said it in 1964

...We repeat it today--

We'll keep you in Hot Water (THE ENJOYABLE KIND)

When you want hot water, you want HOT water. And we don't blame you. Hot water that is flameless is not always blameless; it CAN run lukewarm. Not so in gas-fired water heaters. As you open a hot water tap, natural gas immediately replenishes your supply because it is a faster-acting, more intense fuel. Proof? A 40-gallon gas-fired water heater does the work of an 80-gallon flameless unit. Compare the work of an 80-gallon flameless unit. Compare the work of an 80-gallon flameless unit.

Times haven't changed.

This is still true...
