

HOPING TO NET the American Dairy Princess title at the national competition in Chicago June 28-30, is Susan Gourley, 18, 1971 Oregon Dairy Princess. Portland City Commissioner Connie McCready, only lady fire commissioner in nation, hands Susan a "kick-proof" hurricane lantern to be presented to Chicago's fire chief. This year marks the 100th anniversary of the Great Chicago Fire, popularly attributed to Mrs. O'Leary's cow which allegedly kicked over a lantern and ignited the blaze. Enjoying their pretty catch are the men of Portland Fire Department's engine 23.

License Money Aids Litter Campaign

More than $51,000 is being transferred by the Motor Vehicles Division to a fund to aid the state's anti-litter campaign.

The amount, according to Chester W. Ott, Administrator, represents money collected for customized license plates from April, 1970, through April this year. Customized plates sell for $25 per year.

The Division earlier transferred $10,144 of the earned amount to its account to cover administrative expenses for the customized plate program. This covers the $3.50 cost of the plates, plus a processing charge of 50 cents, for a total of $4 per set.

The 1970 Legislature approved legislation to have fees from the program, less costs of administration, transferred to an Environmental Quality Information Account.

The money is to be used for payment of expenses incurred in administering a program "aimed toward prevention and cleanup of litter." The program may include public informational activities, but is to be directed primarily toward encouraging and facilitating involvement of youth in litter prevention and cleanup work, Ott said.

The account will be for use of the State Highway Division.

To Perform In Carnegie Hall

Diane Haney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haney of Nyssa, will perform in Carnegie Hall on July 2nd as part of a group of young American musicians prior to embarking on a European Concert Tour. The concert tour is being sponsored by the Universal Academy For Music, Princeton, New Jersey, to demonstrate to the world the fine quality and high character of American youth. It is also intended to motivate and reward outstanding music students by providing a unique educational experience-the opportunity to perform under the baton of outstanding conductors in some of the finest concert locations in the world. It also provides them with the opportunity to show the world what the vast majority of American youth are really like.

The concert group of 500 students have been chosen by a rigorous selection procedure and represent every state in the Nation, including Alaska and Hawaii. They are organized into a symphony orchestra, a concert band, and a 275 voice choir, all of which will perform at each location.

Following the concert in Carnegie Hall, the group will concert in Washington, D.C. on the fourth of July. The European segment of the tour includes concerts in London's Royal Albert Hall, Brussels, Paris, Zurich, Innsbruck, Venice and Rome.

Openings In Oregon Colleges Still Available For Students

Have you put off the decision about entering college this fall? About transferring to another school? There is still time--but not much.

Some 1,540 openings still remain in Oregon colleges and universities for late-declining freshmen and 11th hour transfer students, according to a June survey conducted by the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education (WICHE).

According to the WICHE study, application deadlines for the fall semester range from August 1 to October 8 at 25 Oregon higher education institutions.

College officials point out, however, that vacancies are open only to students who meet the individual college's entrance requirements. And if a student has already applied to a college or university and has been turned down, he should not re-apply.

The WICHE study, which canvassed 458 undergraduate institutions throughout the 13 western states, reports that approximately 49,000 vacancies are still available for entering freshmen and transfer students. A total of 263 western institutions responded to the survey, with 233 reporting vacancies for come-lately applicants.

The following TWO-YEAR COLLEGES in Oregon have openings for commuting and dormitory freshmen and transfer students: Clatsop Community College, Astoria, deadline Sept. 25; Concordia College, Portland, Aug. 15; Mt. Hood Community College, Gresham, Sept. 1; Oregon Technical Institute, Klamath Falls, Sept. 1; and Treasure Valley Community College, Ontario, Sept. 21. Vacancies for commuting freshmen and transfer students are at: Clackamas Community College, Oregon City, deadline Sept. 1; Lane Community College, Eugene, Sept. 27; Linn-Benton Community College, Albany, Oct. 8; Portland Community College, Oct. 1; and Umpqua Community College, Roseburg, Sept. 20.

The following FOUR-YEAR UNIVERSITIES have openings for commuting and dormitory freshmen and transfer students: Eastern Oregon College, LaGrande, Aug. 15 deadline; Marylhurst College (women only), Aug. 15; Mount Angel College, Sept. 1; Northwest Christian College, Eugene, Sept. 25; Oregon State University, Corvallis, Aug. 15; University of Oregon, Eugene, Aug. 15; Pacific University, Forest Grove, Aug. 15; Southern Oregon College, Ashland, Aug. 15; Warner Pacific College, Portland, Sept. 27; and Western Baptist Bible College, Salem, Aug. 1.

Vacancies for dormitory freshmen and transfer students are at: George Fox College, Newberg, deadline Aug. 15; and Linfield College (no freshmen women), McMinnville, Aug. 1. Vacancies for commuting freshmen and transfer students at Portland State University, Aug. 27; and for commuting and dormitory freshmen at University of Portland, Aug. 27.

Details on vacancies in colleges and universities throughout the 13 western states are available from: College Vacancy Survey, WICHE, P.O. Drawer P, Boulder, Colo. 80302.

WICHE is a public agency which helps the 13 western states work together to increase educational opportunities for western youth, to improve programs of universities and colleges.

Ullman Disapproves Assistance Plan

Congressman Al Ullman warned Congress Tuesday that the nation has started down the road to a guaranteed annual income unless the Senate is able to alter the path of legislation.

The House of Representatives voted late Tuesday afternoon 288-132 to accept President Nixon's controversial Family Assistance Plan despite a last minute attempt by Ullman to have the provision struck from the bill.

The legislation, part of a benefit-boosting social security bill, was laid before the House on a take-it-or-leave-it basis.

"If you adopt this bill," Ullman told the House, "you are going to create unending problems for this nation."

Ullman, who introduced a Welfare Reform bill of his own, said it was a mistake to ask for a vote on such a vast program without allowing debate on any alternative plan.

The motion Ullman made to strike the welfare provision from the total bill was defeated 234-187.

TVCC MUSIC DEPT. OFFERS SUMMER COURSES

The Treasure Valley Community College Music Department will offer three music courses during the regular summer session.

Basic Materials of Music will meet on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 8:00 - 9:45 p.m. for three hours of college credit. This is a basic course in the fundamentals of music designed to acquaint the student with notation, key signatures, and keyboard. Emphasis will be placed on the structure and sound of scales, intervals, and chords.

The course is designed to provide a better background for students considering a college major or minor in music. The areas covered are necessary for students entering college from high school band, choir, and piano. This is the first course for anyone who wants to learn about music, according to Dick Dalzell, instructor.

Because of the success of last year's Summer Choir, it is being offered again for both students and singers from the community. The summer choir will meet once each week, on Tuesday evenings from 8:00 - 10:00 p.m. One hour of lower division collegiate credit is available, but all interested singers in the community are welcome to join the group just for fun and enjoyment whether they want to take it for college credit or not. Emphasis will be placed upon literature from a variety of historical periods and styles. A public concert will be given the final week of summer school, Dalzell added.

Private voice study (Applied Music) for one hour credit is also available on an individual basis. One lesson per week is arranged with each student. A special fee of $30.00 is charged for the applied music instruction.

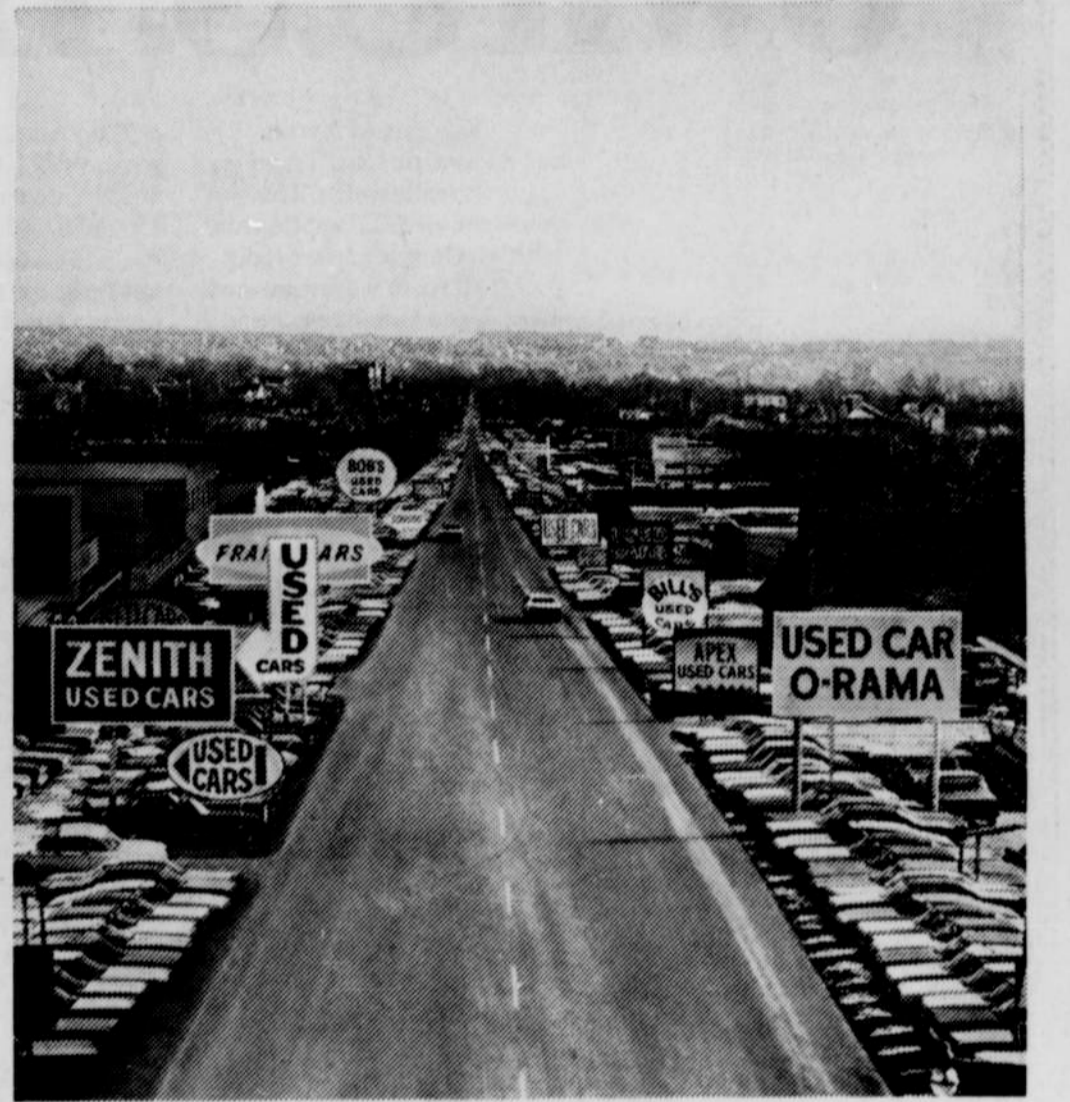

The music courses all meet in Room W-10 of the Weese Building.

Grain Certification Deadline July 1

Farmers who want to certify barley, wheat or oats in Oregon are reminded that the deadline for making application is July 1 according to Malheur County Extension Agent Leeds Bailey.

He also said that applications for the certification of alfalfa and red clover are due on August 1.

Application forms and certification regulations are available

Boulevard of broken dreams.

It's sad. When you think of all the shiny, late model cars that find their way to lots like these.

What's worse are some of the price tags you find in the windows.

But when somebody's in the business of buying and selling used cars, he goes by the book.

The NADA Official Used Car Guide.

And the Guide will tell you that most cars lose just about half of their original value during the first three years.

But then, most cars aren't Volkswagens.

According to the Guide, the same Volkswagen Beetle that sold for about $500 less than the average economy car three years ago, now sells for about $200 more.

That's because we spent 23 years making a Volkswagen work better, instead of just making it look different.

So before you invest your hard-earned cash in a new car, think about the resale value of a VW.

And while you're at it, think about the money you don't have to spend to own and operate one. Pleasant dreams.
