

Vickie L. Hamilton Becomes Bride Of Michael E. Crockett

The First Christian Church of Ontario was the scene of the candlelight marriage of Vickie Lynne Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hamilton of Ontario, and Michael E. Crockett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Crockett of Myrtle Creek, Ore. The Rev. Ed McIndoo officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin princess style gown with three-quarter length lace sleeves. The gown featured a lace train. She carried a cascade of Hawaiian and white roses.

Maid of honor was Kitty Dorroh who wore an orange gown and carried a bouquet of Hawaiian roses, carnations and stephanotis.

Flower girl was Tammy Ogilvie, wearing a gown of lime green.

Greg Ostrom was best man and ushers were Tim Hamilton, brother of the bride, and Dave Crockett, brother of the groom.

Kelly Sue Marsh and Carolyn Funk were candlelighters wearing orange gowns.

Several selections were sung by Mrs. Linda Ady with Mrs. John Marsh at the organ.

A reception at the church followed the ceremony. Mrs. Hudson Robb, grandmother of the bride, served the coffee; because law enforcement kept its cool and refrained from causing a ruckus at Farragut some of the news media insist upon handing kudos to those who were challenging the law. It's easy to be peaceful if nobody places any restraint upon things you may like to do, legal or not. There should be no credit given to the masses at Farragut that violence was avoided and all remained peaceful. It simply boils down to the fact that their challenge wasn't accepted.

The claim about there being too many to handle was not exactly right. There were too many to handle without someone getting hurt. The instigators of deals like this are smart cookies. In an open confrontation with the law they would be out of sight, and innocent kids with stars in their eyes would have been the ones hurt. The law could have been enforced and in some countries where life is cheap it would have been enforced. Remember when Hungary tried to get out from under Russia the streets ran red with the blood of young people. Russia used brute force, tanks and bayonets.

Some crooked crooks were on the scene with their wares and were selling adulterated adulterations. The cut heroin was cut again with strychnine, or was it low grade LSD that was pepped up with strychnine? The kids were in good hands though. A witch doctor by the name of Mungo tested the drugs by plopping a capsule under his tongue to see if it numbed it. If it did the drug was adulterated with strychnine. Wow, if the kids believed this they were already far out.

I'm convinced that a lot of those using drugs are unable to tell the difference between having an experience and being just plain sick. In the good (sic) old days of bootleg whiskey people got drunk on caramel colored water well laced with cayenne pepper. In those days it was frequently a case of mind over matter. Today it's no mind, no matter. The main difference between alcohol and Mary Jane is that a boozier graduates to more booze. A pot head graduates to harder drugs. Neither one is a shining example for a better life.
