Pvt. Michael Terry

FT. ORD, CALIF. (AHTNC) Private Michael V. Terry, whose mother, Mrs. Nellie E. Bacon, and wife, Pamela, live at 513 N. Third Street, Nyssa, is assigned to Ft. Ord, Calif. where he is training under the Modern Volunteer Army Field Experiment.

The new concept, called Volar, combines basic and advanced individual training into a single 16-week program. Decentralized instruction at the unit level and a reduction of formations and inspections gives the soldier more time to train and increased off-duty time. Fewer restrictions on off-duty travel and improved living facilities are other benefits of the Volar concept.

Pvt. Terry is scheduled to complete the first phase on September 3.

His father, Thomas G. Terry, lives in Groveand, Calif.

Gov. McCall's Children To Parade At State Fair Opening

In my opening message to the Fifty-Sixth Legislative Assembly, January 11, 1971, I called attention to our need from the Legislature for some 30 measures to improve protection and management of our natural resources. In my special message on Natural Resources and Environment, February 2, 1971, I emphasized: "There is little question about the dedication of Oregonians to programs which guarantee a continuation of the vaunted livability of this state. This Legislature can add to the splendid record of the past two sessions - particularly in continuing the program of balancing our economic development with full protection of the other living resources and their needs. We've changed completely away from growth for growth's sake. Economic expansion and industrial developments need no longer come at the sacrifice of clean water and air, open space and wildlife. Our actions can be compatible with our natural resources, and we can live in harmony with our environment."

The 1971 Legislative Assembly made significant and lasting contributions to these goals. I am particularly pleased with the 37 major actions which they passed. The legislative session may attract many labels, but inevitably it will be the Session of the "B's" - bottles, billboards, bicycles, beaches and boats - each one reflecting substantial environmental legislation.

The Oregon program of environmental enhancement moved forward vigorously in solid waste management, air quality, nuclear plant siting, environmentally hazardous waste management, forest resource management, and of major significance, expansion of the use of state bonding capacity for pollution abatement.

Each of the actions adds its strength to the weld of the frame of livability in which we're determined to maintain this state.

This year the BIG ONE, the kids. They will be admitted free to the grounds (including one parent each) and will receive a participant's award ribbon.

The Oregon State Fair will open August 28 and run through September 6, Labor Day. Starting at 9:30 from Barrick Field, at Pearl and 15th streets, reported earlier, in error, as North Salem high School, a procession of children, under the direction of Salem Parks and Recreation Agency, will march up 17th street to the Fairgrounds and arrive at 10:00 p.m. for the Opening Day Ceremonies.

They will decorate their own vehicles -- bikes, wagons or floats, all self-propelled, with the traditional crepe paper and streamers or whatever they may fancy.

Mr. Williams' Youth Band and Salem's own Flamingos, just back from competition at Disneyland, will furnish the marching music. The parade will include the Fair's own Beaver and Bear, and bringing up the rear, an authentic restored old-time fire engine ridden by Lil Punkin -- the Fair's symbol -- and Miss Punkin.

More than 200 children will participate -- no outsiders, or commercial participants -- just

RHYME OF THE NOT-SO-ANCIENT MARINER

There is a Crestliner mariner Who always seems to know That pollution makes seas barren; So he spares the H₂O.

The first ivory comb was made at Centerbrook, Conn., by Andrew Lord in 1789. He cut the plates and teeth with a handsaw.

Water, water everywhere With filth that's in solution. Water, water everywhere Contaminated by pollution.

If you've a boat on sea or lake Don't dispose with undue haste. Respond for conservation's sake By storing up your waste.

If motor gives off too much smoke Be sure it's well maintained For ecology is not a joke And clean air can't be feigned.

Save up your empty soft drink cans The folks at Pepsi urge And always make the best of plans To halt pollution's surge.

Water, water everywhere, And boaters should be keen. Water, water everywhere; Let's pitch in and keep it clean!
