TVCC CUTS BUDGET FOR BALANCE OF FISCAL YEAR ENROLLMENT DOWN

An administrative budget will replace the present budget of Treasure Valley Community College, the board of directors was informed at their meeting last week.

James Roberts, business manager, reported that enrollment for the fall term is down about 200 students which poses a definite reduction in revenue. With the revenue down $150,000-$200,000 the expenditures will have to be reduced a like figure, Roberts said.

The anticipated loss in revenue is primarily due to the loss of the anticipated students but also is due to a reduction of about $11,000 in reimbursement in vocational education due to a change in the state formula.

Department heads have been asked to revise their budgets regarding supplies, equipment, travel and part time instructions.

Dick Debisschop stated that the count for full time students was 688, down 188 from last year.

Don Ridener, director of student aid and housing, reported that 218 students were now living in the dorms. The girls dorm is full with 56 and 162 boys are lodged in their dorm with room for 14 more.

In the girls' quarters two washing machines, two dryers, and two telephones have been installed. The college is now hiring two maids to work in the A and B units.

President Emery Skinner reported on the new community college code. One new change is on the election of board members. Hereafter board members will be elected at the primary elections held every two years. Next spring the positions of Eugene Smith and Grant Rinehart will go on the ballot and these positions will have to be filed 70 days prior to the election.

The board appointed Ace Lloyd, Ontario, for another three years on the budget committee. The position held by Dick Harada, Vale, was not filled. Harada had asked not to be renamed.

State Agriculture Director Visits Malheur County

Mann flew into Boise Friday morning and came to Nyssa, where he was taken through the Amalgamated Sugar Company factory. He then went to Ontario for a tour of Ore-Ida's frozen foods plant.

Friday evening the state director spoke to nearly 100 persons from agriculture and business, and talked about the history of agriculture in Oregon. Saturday he spoke to the Malheur County Livestock Association members in Vale at their annual meeting. At this meeting William Ross, Jordan Valley, was returned as president; Skip Thayer, Ontario, was elected first vice president; Charles Lacey, Ironside, was elected second vice president; Norman Hipp, Ontario, was reelected treasurer; and George Bain, Ontario, was retained as secretary.

CITY ATTORNEY EXPLAINS DOG CONTROL ELECTION SET FOR NOVEMBER 8

Two special elections have been called by the Nyssa City Council to be held on November 8, on measures referred to the voters of the City for their approval. Both elections are centered around Ordinance No. 434, known as the Dog Control Ordinance which was passed by the Council to take effect on January 10, 1972, if a majority of the voters indicate their approval. The other election seeks authority from the voters to permit the Council to levy an annual tax not exceeding $6,500 to provide a means of enforcing the dog ordinance if approved. If the majority of the voters disapprove Ordinance 434, there will be no need for approval of the annual tax levy measure. On the other hand, if the annual tax levy measure is disapproved by the voters and the dog control ordinance is approved, there will not be adequate funds with which to enforce dog control in Nyssa.

City Attorney Hal Henigson said that the Council adopted the dog control ordinance in response to a petition filed by residents of the City requesting that the roaming activities of dogs in the City be curbed completely. The principal provisions of Ordinance No. 434 are as follows:

1. Requires licensing of dogs and provides licensing by March 1st each year or within 30 days after becoming owner of a dog, whichever is later.

2. All dogs must wear a collar to which its license shall be affixed.

3. It will be unlawful for any dog to be on streets, alleys, or public places of the City, or upon any other premises, without the consent of the person in possession, unless in charge of a person and controlled by a leash.

4. Dogs are nuisances if they (a) howl or bark so as to disturb peace and quiet; (b) run at large; (c) trespass on property not owned by the dog owner; (d) bite a person; (e) chase vehicles or persons.

5. Dogs in violation of the Ordinance will be apprehended and impounded and, if not reclaimed within five days after the posting of notice, will be disposed of.

6. If reclaimed, owner must pay claim fee plus cost of taking up and caring for dog.

7. Dogs suspected of rabies will be impounded for 15 days at the expense of the owner, if taken up while in violation of the ordinance.

8. Penalties upon conviction: $15 fine on first offense, $50 fine on second offense, $100 on third offense and $150 on subsequent offenses.

Let Halloween Be Fun Time

Halloween -- Holiday or Horror -- depends on parents, grown-ups and drivers on the night children look forward to each year.

As a driver on October 31 be aware that it is Halloween and that there will be small ghosts and goblins darting out on streets and roads with just one thing in mind. To get to the next house to see what goodies lay in store for them. Drive slowly and warily. Watch for children darting out between parked cars. Tap your horn occasionally on dimly-lighted streets. Be extremely cautious while backing out of driveways.

Parents, if your children are small, escort them. Say no to costumes so loose that they might catch or trip the child. The same for costumes with sharp objects such as swords or high heeled shoes. Dark colors are hard to see and if worn should have some light colored or fluorescent tape on them so they will stand out. Halloween's whole idea is a fun time for the children so as a parent help them with their costumes in order that they may be safe as well as fun.

Fire presents another danger to the children. Bad burns may be prevented by dipping costumes and wigs in a fire retardant solution available at retail stores or made with nine ounces of borax, four ounces of boric acid and one gallon of hot water. Light the jack-o-lanterns with flashlight's instead of candles.

Homeowners can also help by being sure their yards and driveways are free of trash cans, lawn mowers and bicycles. Tie strips of white cloth on newly planted shrubs or trees. Leave outside lights on to prevent falls and discourage vandalism.

Halloween can be fun but it can turn into a nightmare also. It's up to all of us to help make it enjoyable for the youngsters. A little common sense can go a long way. Most people enjoy having the small trick-or-treaters in their costumes come to the door. But when they come in droves of more than three or four in a group, and when they call more than once at the same house; and come lugging huge pillow cases or gunny sacks for their treats it ends up not being much fun for anyone.

With a little common sense on everyone's part let's make Halloween '71 be a safe, fun and happy Halloween for the children as well as the grown-ups.

Citizens Asked To "Help Schools Bridge The Gap"

"Help Schools Bridge the Gap" between young people and adults, between Americans of different color and point of view, between rich and poor, and between promise and performance.

So urged Dale Schraufnagel, AEW Chairman in announcing the theme and challenge of this year's American Education Week observance, October 24-30.

"In a nation that speaks of inalienable rights, the right to learn must be paramount," Schraufnagel said. "Yet enormous gaps must be bridged before that right becomes a reality."

In announcing local participation in the observance, Schraufnagel called upon the entire community to join in a re-assessment of the school's role in light of these gaps.

"We must ask ourselves what schools can do to make education more relevant to the present and future lives of students--and further, what full opportunity for quality education requires in the 1970's," Dale Schraufnagel said.

American Education Week, held annually since 1921, is sponsored by the National Education Association, The American Legion, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the U.S. Office of Education.

In addition to the traditional emphasis on school visitation by parents, good citizenship, and the need for strengthening and supporting the schools, this year's observance, will focus on ways the schools might become more responsive to the needs of students of varied cultural and ethnic backgrounds. But Schraufnagel stressed that the focus will also extend to fostering in the individual greater awareness of opportunities to help direct the institutions that serve him.

BLM Grazing Permits Due

Late grazing applications may cause loss of grazing privileges on public lands, according to Marilyn V. Jones, acting manager of the Bureau of Land Management's Vale District.

Jones noted that slightly more than half of the 1972 grazing applications had been received by October 26. He urged range users to get their applications to the district office as soon as possible, but not later than November 9. Each application must be checked by resource personnel and considered by the district's advisory board before grazing use on public land can be granted. Failure to apply for these privileges can also cause loss of license or permit, Jones cautioned.

Highway Tax Funds To Be Distributed

The Oregon State Highway Commission today approved the distribution of $6,273,436.04 in highway-user tax funds to the 36 counties of the state.

State law requires that 20 percent of revenues credited to the highway fund by the State Treasurer be distributed to the counties. This allocation is for the period July 1 to September 30, 1971. The funds come from the following sources: motor vehicle registration and operators' license fees, gasoline tax, use fuel tax motor carrier fees, and fines and penalties collected for violations of size and weight statutes where complaints are made by the Highway Division weighmasters.

The allocation to each county is based on the number of vehicles registered in it. Malheur County will receive $82,055.46 based on 20,434 vehicles registered.
