Snoopy--fighter pilot, former head beagle and illustrious star of Charles M. Schulz's comic strip "Peanuts"---has become a full partner in the Johnny Horizon program supported by Federal, state and private agencies and organizations.

In a small brochure titled "Hi, I'm Johnny Horizon's New Partner," Snoopy urges other Americans to join the Johnny Horizon team. The brochure folds out to a 10 x 16 inch poster in which vulture Snoopy urges everyone to "pounce on pollution."

Snoopy's flying secretary, Woodstock, gets into the act, asking people to "bend a little, pick up a lot." The publication suggests several ways in which citizens can work to improve the environment.

Government leaders are naturally pleased to have Snoopy as a Johnny Horizon partner. Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton remarked that "Snoopy is one of the Nation's most celebrated adventurers, and is easily one of the finest infielders ever to wear a baseball uniform in any league. Now, as he seeks even greater accomplishments, I am confident that Snoopy will distinguish himself in the Federal Government's efforts to halt pollution and improve the environment."

Archie D. Craft, Oregon State Director for the Department's Bureau of Land Management, announced that Snoopy's help marks a significant turning point in Johnny's career. "The program has outgrown its initial emphasis on litter, and now represents a Nation-wide effort to protect and improve the total environment."

Craft is also convinced that

FLIGHT SAFETY SEMINAR TUESDAY

"Medical Facts for Pilots," another FAA Flight Safety Seminar, will be held at Treasure Valley Community College, Thursday, January 20. The program is available to all area pilots, in the Administration Building East-West Lounge from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

A team from the Civil Aeronautics Medical Institute in Oklahoma City will cover such topics as oxygen, hyperventilation, hypoxia, drugs and flying, alcohol, night vision, and vertigo.

A vertigo chair will be available for participants to ride in, in order to learn about this flying hazard.

Monday evening January 3, Lt. and Mrs. R. W. Stringham, Scott and Sue of Ogden, Utah were overnight guests of his aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Chamberlain. He is stationed at Fort Lewis and will go to Korea for a year in April, when his wife and children will move back to Ogden. They called on Mr. and Mrs. Clint Chamberlain in Nyssa on their way back to Ogden where they have relatives.

Sunday afternoon visitors of Mrs. Rollo Fenn were Mrs. Carl Fenn, Cindy Simpson, Vicki and Natalie Savage and Carry Fenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Chamberlain were Sunday dinner guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Chamberlain.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Wenke went to a pancake and pinocle party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Nelson in Caldwell Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Province of Caldwell were Sunday afternoon visitors in the L. C. McDermott home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Simpson are both very ill with the flu. Mrs. Hopman and all six members were present.

Nancy Landreth, president, conducted the meeting. Robin Wood, secretary, read the minutes. Jackie Chadwick, song leader, led us in several songs. Refreshments were served, after which we decided to make swim shifts next meeting. We also learned how to make slacks. —Chris Hendrick, reporter.
