

OUT OF THE PAST

10 YEARS AGO

County Judge Ellis A. White announced Wednesday noon that the county had that day signed an agreement with the state highway department for an additional $10,000 to be spent on the Lake Owyhee road.

Cheryl Zesiger, a senior at Nyssa High School, recently received the Betty Crocker homemaker award for achieving the highest grade in an examination given to all girls having completed or now enrolled in Homemaking III. More than 406,000 senior girls across the nation took part.

Cheryl, is the daughter of Mrs. Eugene Cleaver.

A fluffy grey and white kitten caused quite a bit of excitement among school students last week as it sat for two days on top of a power pole just east of Bestway Building center. Idaho Power received several calls and Bill Fitzsimmons and George Coffman came to the rescue.

Miss Patricia House is the new honored queen of Nyssa Bethel #33 of the International Order of Job's Daughters. She will reign until June.

Approximately 800 Snake River Valley high school students thrilled a large crowd of adults and children in the Nyssa gymnasium Wednesday night with band, mixed chorus and girls glee club members.

Schools participating in the program were Nyssa, Vale, Parma, Fruitland, Payette, Adrian, Marsing, Wilder, Notus and Homedale.

The out-of-town students commuted to Nyssa by school bus. Many brought their lunches, others ate in local cafes. The women of the LDS Church served chili to approximately 200 students.

Rex Voeller of the Nyssa Theater gave a free show for the students Wednesday at 5 p.m.

of Nyssa High School said he was well pleased with the conduct of students both at the school house and in town.

30 YEARS AGO

Attorney General I.H. Van Winkle notified city officials this afternoon that Nyssa is in the mountain time belt.

The city council, meeting in the City Hall at an adjourned meeting Monday night, reversed its decision of the Monday before and voted to recommend to the residents of Nyssa that they adopt Pacific time to conform with the remainder of Malheur County until further investigation established the proper legal time.

On February 2 the council voted to conform to the government request that clocks be turned ahead one hour. During the week Mayor J.O. Olsen was informed that Ontario and Vale intended to go into Pacific time February 9. The mayor indicated that Nyssa would follow suit. The fact that Malheur County was going to switch to Pacific time to avoid setting clocks ahead one hour was given publicity in daily newspapers of Idaho and Oregon.

As a result, Monday morning arrived and much confusion was caused by the mix-up in whether Nyssa was in the Pacific or Mountain time belt. The schools were operating on advanced time, the Post Office on regular mountain time and the Sugar Factory on advanced mountain time.

Registration of men from 20 to 45 who are not already registered for possible military service will be held in the City Hall beginning February 14.

The president's proclamation called for registration of all men in the United States, subject to certain exceptions, who were born on or after February 17, 1897, and on or before December 31, 1921, unless previously registered under the selective training and service act.

The Nyssa post of the American Legion will have charge of the registration.

40 YEARS AGO

At a regular meeting of the Nyssa Commercial Club last night, Ed Wilson presided as chairman for C.L. McCoy, who could not be present. A committee of three, Ernest Wilson, Donald Graham and Sidney Burbidge, was appointed to discuss the continuance of free picture shows with Nat Leigh, theatre owner.

Another interesting suggestion was that Nyssa stage a celebration upon completion of the Owyhee Dam. The dam will be completed sometime this summer.

No depression hit the lamb crop. According to reports coming from the many lambing camps around Nyssa, twins are arriving as rapidly as singles.

After two weeks vacation on account of the influenza epidemic and the regular weekend holidays, school was resumed here Monday with attendance near the 100 per cent mark.

50 YEARS AGO

Why not let the farmer be the big shipper of small produce grown at Nyssa? The grand fertile valley of Snake River can produce many, many cars of fruit and vegetables and will do so in ever increasing volume if the grower can be guaranteed a market for what he raises. At least a car every other day could be shipped containing early vegetable and fruits.

Chas. Thompson, Mgr. of the Nyssa Grain and Seed Company is having an addition built to the place he now occupies and will install an elevator, which will enable him to handle the bulk grain in car lot shipment. The work will be completed in about three weeks. W.P. Sweath of Ontario is doing the Millwright work.

Mrs. Angelita Netherly passed away quietly at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Ward, on Tuesday, February 7, 1922, after many months of helplessness. Funeral services were conducted from the Methodist Episcopal Church by Rev. C.E. Whorton officiating. Interment was in the Ontario cemetery.

THANK YOU!

I would like to thank Dr. Kerby, the nurses and other members of the staff at Malheur Memorial Hospital for their excellent care during my stay in the hospital.
—George Wilson

THANK YOU!

I would like to thank everyone who sent flowers, cards and food and took time in coming to see me while I was ill in the hospital and recuperating at home.

Class Tours Sugar Factory

Mrs. Jan Wilson's room went on a tour of the Amalgamated Sugar Factory, Friday, January 28. We saw where the beets were unloaded from the trains and washed. We tasted sugar beet costec, powdered sugar, white and brown sugar. We also got to see a computer that told if the machines had stopped working.

Men rode up an elevator with bags of sugar and stacked it for storage.

We saw sugar through a microscope and it looked like ice crystals. We learned that 17,000 pounds of sugar was produced.
—Terri Anne Urey

We got on the bus at one o'clock and were divided into groups. We started the tour outside where the sugar beets get off the train. They are washed and squirted with water, then sliced into "caussets" or noodles and they look like spaghetti.

They soak the caussets so sugar can escape. They put the sugar into big carbonation tanks, and mix the left-over pulp with molasses and make cow feed. They filter all the impurities out of the sugar, then evaporate the water, and do more filtering. Then the raw sugar goes into tanks where crystallizing takes place. The sugar is packed and goes into the storeroom where it is stacked. If any sugar bags are ripped or torn, they have to be filtered again.

Little by little, the sugar is shipped out to market.
