Harry decided to marry Carrie

Why? Harry had an apartment with a gas water heater. He had much more hot water than he could use. Why not share the wealth?

Now that Harry and Carrie did marry, they find there is still a never-ending supply of instant hot water in their household.

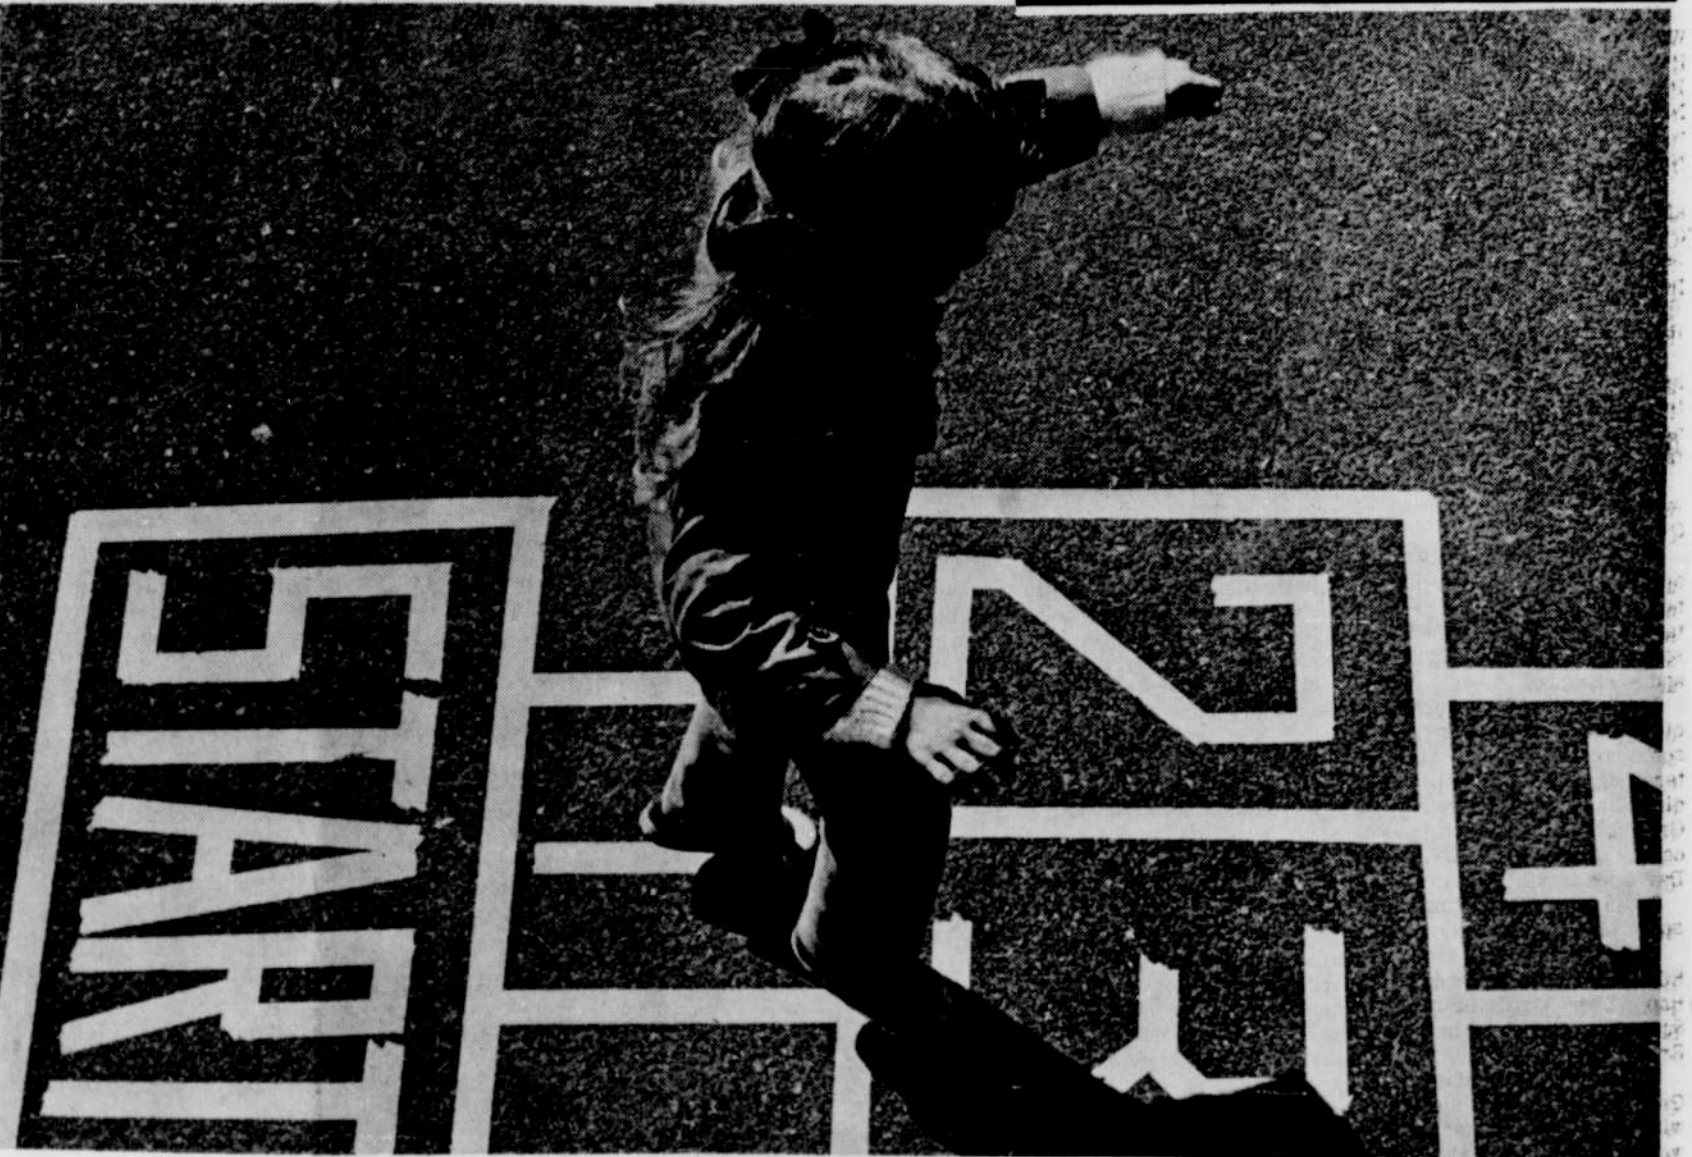

"This natural gas hot water," the newlyweds mused, "is for a lot of people."

So they are happily planning quite a few little Harrys and Carries.

See what an abundance of dependable, economical, really HOT hot water can lead to?

For a happier home, get an automatic natural gas water heater—the kind that never lets you down. Your plumber, your gas appliance dealer, and your gas company will gladly answer questions.
