

Patricia McGinley—Rodney Phelps
Wed In St. Bridget's Church

An early afternoon Nuptial Mass, united Patricia Maureen McGinley and Rodney Gene Phelps in the sacrament of Holy Matrimony. Father Robert Simard officiated at the double-ring ceremony at St. Bridget's Catholic Church in Nyssa, Saturday, March 25, 1972. Ted and Joe Joyce served as altar boys. Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry McGinley of Nyssa, and Rodney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Phelps of Parma, Idaho. Standing at a small table, to the side of the front altar, Rodney and Patricia made their wedding vows and the Catholic blessing and prayer was sung by Jenean Schoen and Joan Weymouth. Renee Gulstrom was organist. A large bouquet of red velour roses was arranged on each side of the main altar, with matching bouquets placed on the two side altars. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white floor-length gown of Lute Song. The gown was a basic fitted shift, styled with an A-line skirt, slightly puffed wrist-length sleeves and an attached hood worn over the head during the Nuptial ceremony and draped into a gracefully soft rolled collar, during the reception. She carried a cascading bouquet of red velour roses with white ribbon streamers. Ruth Ann McGinley was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Colleen McGinley and Mrs. Wayne (Kathleen) Oliver, also sisters of the bride, and Mrs. David (Susan) Shuff, sister of the groom. The attendants gowns were styled identical to that of the bride's but were of navy blue Lute Song, matching the Air Force Blue uniforms worn by the groom and best man. They each carried snowball nosegays of red velour roses with white ribbon streamers. Michael Morrison served as best man. Jim Hopkins and John Phelps, brother of the groom, were groomsmen. Ringbearer was Michael Wahlert. Ushering the guests were Bruce Cole, David Shuff, Brian Hirai and Lynn Sorensen. The bride's mother wore a navy blue and grey paisley print knit dress with a navy blue knit sleeveless over coat. Her accessories were navy blue. The groom's mother chose a two-piece dressmaker suit of tiny black and white check and black accessories. Their corsages were red velour roses. The young couple was honored by the presence of the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Isabelle Carlsen. She wore a beige suit with matching accessories and a corsage of red velour roses. A reception was held immediately following the Nuptial Mass at the Catholic social hall. Debbie Rutherford welcomed the many guests and was in charge of the guest book.
