

COOK VISITS JFK CENTER

James Erwin Cook, 16, of Sweet Home, Oregon, grandson of Mrs. Angie Cook, recently attended the Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation Space Seminar at the Kennedy Space Center in Florida.

He was selected the Oregon winner in an international contest sponsored by the Foundation in cooperation with the National Assn. of Student Councils and NASA. Nearly two million boys applied in the competition which was open to all sophomores attending more than 10,000 high schools.

Cook and 64 other youngsters, one from each state plus representatives from several foreign countries, were involved in an intensive week-long session dealing with every phase of the national space program.

The work of the Foundation is funded by O'Brian. Its purpose is to accent the positive, to pat the good boy on the back and to let him know there is a reward for being a responsible member of the community.

All O'Brian asks in return from the boys is that they write him on their respective birthdays until they reach 30, telling their successes as well as their frustrations in reaching their goals.

NEW IN DIAMONDS A GEM OF AN IDEA

Someone's finally put more sparkle into sparklers. Coming up with a real gem of an idea, Montgomery Ward is now offering "Century 2" diamonds with 100 facets, which is 42 facets more than most other diamonds contain.

With extra angles added for extra blaze and sparkle, each Century 2 diamond is hand-selected for pure, icy radiance, and skillfully cut to assure maximum brilliance.

Available in sizes of 1/3-carat and up, with mountings of 14-karat gold, these special sparklers are sold with a lifetime trade-in privilege, allowing the owner the original cash purchase price toward the purchase of a more expensive Century 2 diamond at any time.

Wards is the only mass retailing firm with a 100-facet stone and is offering it along with other exclusive products as part of the company's 100th anniversary celebration this year.
