

A PHYSICIAN and a young man met at a party. "I want to thank you, Doctor, for the benefit I have gained from your treatment." The physician looked at him blankly. "But I don't think you're a patient of mine." "No, I'm not," came the reply. "But my uncle was, and I'm his heir." (Yours in Rotary, Margao, India)

CAR SHOPPER'S AID. It is now easier for you, the prospective buyer, to obtain safety information about new cars-- information to explain the stopping distance, acceleration and passing ability, and tire reserve loads.

For almost two years, auto manufacturers have been required to have this safety information available in showrooms. Now, if you wish, you can get this information to study and to compare cars on a safety basis.

FINANCE CHARGE. If you've decided that a mobile home is the answer to your family's housing problem, the truth-in-lending law should help you shop for the credit you need to buy it.

Lenders must tell you the annual percentage rate (a good way of comparing costs for credit) and the total dollar cost for credit. They will refer to this cost as the finance charge. This amount will help you determine exactly what credit is costing you.

ORGANIZE. As the purchase agent for the family, you need a business center for keeping all of the records involved with your purchases. Provide space for these kinds of files: Current bills and purchases; purchases made with credit (with information about credit arrangements); information that comes with the purchase (such as the label on the dress, the booklet that tells you how to operate a piece of equipment).

With all these records in one place, you'll save a lot of time when you need to retrieve some information on bills or purchases.

"SALE!!!" Sales are a great way to save money--if you're sales wise. Remember, if what you buy can't be used, you have wasted your money.

Before purchasing an on-sale item, be sure you know what you want and need, no matter what the price. Check to see if sales goods are from regular stock, or just brought in for the sale. Know the presale price--this is one way you know the possible saving. If items are seconds or irregulars, check them carefully to be sure they are usable.

Sale items are seldom returnable, so be sure you want the item before you spend your money on it.

BOAT SAFETY. Did you know the U.S. Coast Guard's new boating safety regulations require lifesaving equipment on all pleasure boats? The regulations, that became effective in April, apply to sailboats, canoes, and rowboats, and are very similar to current regulations for motorboats.

They apply to boats used on federal waters including rivers, bays, and lakes that cross state lines or that are a part of federal lands.

To obtain a list of all approved boating equipment, write "Equipment List" (CG190), U.S. Coast Guard, 400 Seventh St., S.W., Washington, D.C. 20490.
