

Salmon and Yellow Decorates Orm-Williams Ceremonies

Baskets of salmon colored gladioli and yellow chrysanthemums decorated the First Christian Church in Nyssa for the wedding of Darlene F. Orm and Kevin D. Williams on August 19. The Rev. Erlend Johnson officiated at the double-ring rites in the presence of 125 guests. Providing the wedding music was Mrs. Laurence Hansen.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Orm of Route 2, Nyssa and Mrs. R. S. Williams of Mitchell, Oregon, and the late R. S. Williams.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a traditional gown of Chantilly lace over satin, featuring a square neckline and long lace sleeves. Tiers of lace accented the full skirt, brought together by a bow at the waist. Her waist length veil was held by a cluster of roses and she carried a cascading bouquet of tangerine roses.

Glena Kendall, cousin of the bride, was matron-of-honor and Debby Kendall, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. Both bridesmaids wore tangerine floor-length gowns gathered at the waist and carried bouquets of tiny yellow mums, accented by tangerine roses. Lillena Asumendi was flower girl.

Peter Williams, brother of the groom served as bestman, while ushers were Dave Maxwell and Matt Williams, brother of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Orm wore a one-piece orange ensemble of polyester, and the bridegroom's mother was attired in a yellow one-piece ensemble of polyester. Their accessories were white and each wore a corsage fashioned with white orchids.

A three-tiered wedding cake decorated with orange roses and topped with white wedding bells, graced the reception table.

The Storm

by Laurel Zeman The rain had begun in the morning and drizzling through the day. Had been soaking all pedestrians and keeping children in from their play.

It increased on through the evening and deluged into the night. While the wind decended in gale force and small children huddled in fright.

Lightning began flashing like neon. Intermittently lighting the gloom. And the ominous roar of the thunder. Penetrated the depths of each room. As the storm raged on in its fierceness. The lights gave a feeble blink and plunged the whole trembling city into darkness blacker than ink.

The storm rumbled on into morning. And with the first timid streaks of the dawn. The wind retreated to rest for awhile. But the pelting rain kept on. Morale was disparaged and battered. But the workaday world must be maintained. So the city emerged from the gloom of the night. And all through the day it rained.

Mrs. Willis Zeman of Aberdeen, Washington felt inspired to write this poem after a severe storm.

Mrs. Zeman recently visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moore, Nyssa.

AAUW Slates Candidates Fair

A "Candidates" Fair will be held at the Weese Building on the T.V.C.C. campus (today) October 12 from 8 to 10 p.m. All the candidates for Malheur County offices and for the state legislature from this area have been contacted and all have indicated that they will attend. This Candidates' Fair is sponsored by the Ontario Branch, American Association of University Women and is complete-nonpartisan in purpose. Mrs. Florence Sharp, director of the T.V.C.C. Learning Center, is to be moderator. She states that the candidates' presentations will be subject to time limit and that there will be plenty of time for questions from the audience.

In the overwhelming amount of publicity centered on presidential and state campaigns, the importance of local elections tends to be overlooked. A.A.U.W. feels that local government and our representation in the State legislature are also of great importance. It is to be hoped that this Candidates' Fair will attract a large number of interested voters from the entire county and that it will help voters choose wisely on Election Day, November 7.
