Horse Industry Big In Oregon

Among the many weeks we observe in October is "Horse Appreciation Week", currently underway through October 22. Gov. McCall proclaimed the week as a part of the Oregon Horsemen's Association efforts to create public awareness to the importance of the horse industry in Oregon's economy, environment, development of youth, recreation, and their intensive effort to educate horsemen in protection of the environment, use of trails, and proper management and care of horses.

Our family can be numbered among the horse lovers of Oregon, and we loved two of them, fed them, hauled them, doctored them, chased them, suffered with them and as a result of them, and cried when we sold them. They occupied an important place in the lives of our daughters as they grew up, and we can agree with the Oregon Horsemen's Association that horses are important.

How important we really didn't know until we received these statistics on the horse industry in Oregon, which we will relay on to you. Extension service estimates 125,000 horses call Oregon home. All 36 counties in Oregon offer some 4-H horse program, with 8,000 juniors enrolled. Approximately 3,000 juniors own horses other than those in 4-H. There are more than 35,000 horse owners and total monies generated by the horse industry exceeds $130,000,000 in Oregon. The horse is rated second only to cattle in the livestock industry, both in Oregon and the nation.

Nothing explains the current status of the horse better than a quote from John Foss' article, "The Horse and Environmental Quality."

"The horse is woven inextricably into American Life - Today as well as a century ago. He provides at least as important a contribution to the environment now as he did then, though the nature of that contribution has changed. The horse is an advantage to the environment physically, a stimulus to the environment economically, a stabilizing factor to the environment sociologically, and as close to a psychological necessity as man has been able to discover. For every dollar spent on a horse, he has returned a thousand-fold to our society and our environment. It is unreasonable to ask more of any creature."

SUPERINTENDENT'S CORNER

By W.L. McPartland

One of the problems of school is keeping in touch with the home. Our goal and your goal for your child is the same. Each of us is interested in doing the very best job possible for our children.

If a conflict arises, get in touch with the teachers and see why such a decision was made. The principal is the next one to contact. Explain your problem and see if some misunderstanding might have occurred. If you do not get satisfaction, please contact me. I will make every effort to help you alleviate any problem. My door is always open, and I appreciate being contacted.

It should be the goal of every parent to get acquainted with each teacher who instructs his child. Remember, the only reason for school existing is to help your child. The parent can help by showing a sincere interest in what is going on at school. Do you take time to listen? Do you look at the work the student brings home?

It is not what a child is that counts, but his self-concept of himself--what he thinks he is. Do we as parents make the effort to show our children that we really care what they do? Let's all get acquainted. It is much easier to solve problems if each of us will take time to listen to others.

NOTICE

The Malheur Memorial Hospital Auxiliary will meet October 30, instead of their regular meeting time, October 23, because of the holiday.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Editor, the Journal:
 In answer to your request for information on Floy Byram: Floy (Mrs. Howard Fenner) has lived in California nearly 32 years.

She has worked for the telephone company a number of years. Her husband has worked as a civilian employee of the government for many years.

They have two children, a married daughter in Sacramento who has three boys and their son who is a junior at Chico State College.

They are both golf enthusiasts. Their home is located at 3542 Bodega Ct., Sacramento, Calif. Sincerely Mrs. Dean Byram New Plymouth, Idaho

Editor, the Journal:

On September 29, 1972 there was a letter to the Editor in the Boise Statesman that drew my attention. That week I had set aside two days during which I attacked a discouraging pile of mending and sewing. Perhaps because of this I felt a great sympathy for the one who wrote that letter.

The letter was an appeal for help from Mrs. Woo Kyongsik of Pusan, Korea. She is the mother of four young children whose father left them two years ago. Mrs. Woo sews by hand for $1 a day. If she had a sewing machine ($70.00) she could earn $3 a day. She is in need of surgery which will cost $300.00. She pays $6 a month for their home. Her letter was accompanied by one from the Priest in her Parish saying he knew the family and they were "living under sub-human conditions due to too severe trials."

Father Simard did some checking and believes the letter is a legitimate appeal for help. I read the letter to my children and their response was so great I have decided to do something about this woman and her children. A few individuals have offered a small donation and the St. Bridget's Alter Society has voted to send $10.00. Anyone wishing to help may contact me and I will be responsible for sending the money to Mrs. Woo. Many of us earn in thirty minutes what Mrs. Woo works one full day to earn.

Mrs. Bill Wahlert 518 North 3rd Street Nyssa, Oregon

LETTER TO EDITOR

EDITOR, The Journal:
 The John Birch Society has launched a new campaign, declaring that October 24 the founding anniversary of the United Nations-- should be proclaimed a "Day of Shame", to commemorate the pro-Communist actions of the world body. Members and supporters of the Birch Society are planning to distribute flyers, show films, and establish "United Nations Information Booths" during a four-day educational campaign, from October 21 through October 24, to mark the "Day of Shame."

A "UN Information Booth" will be set up in the West Park Plaza Shopping Center at Ontario, October 21 and October 23. In addition, members and supporters will be going door-to-door in some communities.

This four-day campaign will be concluded with a public showing of two film strips, "The United Nations--Peace Dove Unmasked," and "The Great Pretense," on Tuesday, October 24 at the Woman's Club House in Ontario. The starting time will be 8:00 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Members of the anti-communist group, hope that their critics will read our material before condemning our position, and that many citizens will take the opportunity provided by this educational campaign to learn the truth about the United Nations, and then to join with us in working to preserve and protect American freedom and independence.

—Mrs. Bonnie Weber, Route # 1, Parma, Idaho.

OUT OF THE PAST

10 YEARS AGO

Drs. K.E. Kerby and K.A. Danford announce open house will be held Sunday at their newly completed medical building at the corner of Third Street and Good Avenue.

On Oct. 11, President Kennedy signed a bill to raise postal rates for everybody and give 1.6 million federal workers a pay increase.

The new postage rates become effective Jan. 7 and are calculated to bring $600 million additional revenue into the treasury annually. Under the new rates regular letters will require a 5-cent stamp, airmail 8 cents and post cards 4 cents. This is an increase of 1 cent on each of these types of mail.

Nyssa has one less shop, but lost no barbers, as the result of a merger on Monday. Christy Minton moved to Warren McHargue's shop for the winter months, where both barbers will continue their trade. Minton plans to resume farming in the spring, unless barbering shows a big upturn.

Malheur ranks in the first 50 counties throughout the nation in five basic commodities, according to a bulletin from the Department of Commerce. In a breakdown of commodities by the Ontario State Unemployment compensation commission the following figures from the 1950 census were given:

Dry onions, 1,1791 acres; alfalfa cut for hay, 42,607; Irish potatoes, 9,147 acres; sugar beets, 14,285; horses and colts 7,327; cattle and calves sold alive in 1949, 53,605.

The employment office reported that employment remained high throughout September of this year and the labor market remained tight, despite the close of the corn canner and quick freezing plant.

Polio continued to be a major problem at the Malheur Memorial Hospital during the past week and by Wednesday another all-time high in the number of patients under treatment was reached. Seven new cases were admitted and four were released during the week to bring the total number of victims confined to 22.

There will be "treats" in plethora for everybody. This will be a big feature of the evening's entertainment. Everyone will have the opportunity to partake of the good things that will be provided. There will also be numerous games and amusements.

Nyssa people are looking forward with keen anticipation to the big community supper and bazaar next Tuesday evening at the Parish Hall. Preparations for the big event are practically completed and the plans have been carried to a point where the success of the evening is assured.
