

Hodge-Meisinger United In Vale Methodist Church

The United Methodist Church in Vale was decorated with baskets of yellow and white daisies for the October 21 ceremony that united Sandra Hodge and Richard Meisinger. The Rev. Ralph Cairns performed the double-ring ceremony in which the bride was given in marriage by her father. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hodge, Vale, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meisinger, Nyssa.

Mrs. Robert Sherve was organist for the ceremony.

The bride chose a floor-length gown in her bridal colors of yellow and white. Made of pale yellow chiffon, the mandarin collar of the dress was accented with white daisies. She carried a bridal bouquet of pale yellow daisies and mums.

Mrs. Scott Lamb, Nampa, was matron of honor for her sister. Her floor length dress was yellow and green.

Vernon Maulding III, La Grande, was best man. Don Hodge, brother of the bride, and Gale Venhaus, brother-in-law of the groom, seated the guests.

Following the ceremony the couple greeted their guests at a reception in the church hall.

A fall arrangement in golds and yellows decorated the bride table. Cynthia Hodge was in charge of the guest book. Serving refreshments were Mrs. Don Hodge, La Grande and Mrs. Ernie Hodge, Weiser. Mrs. Ron Hellman received the gifts.

Among the guests were Mrs. Alta Hodge, Wilder, grandmother of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Gale Venhaus, Denver, sister of the groom.

Mrs. Hellman and Mrs. Orin Culbertson were hostesses to a shower for the bride October 13.
