

ARCHERS REMINDED OF NEW LICENSE

Archery hunters are reminded that they are required to have an archery license plus the regular hunting license to bow hunt during any season established exclusively for archery hunting. This new bow hunting license first became effective during the 1972 hunting seasons.

The bow hunting license costs $2 when purchased in combination with the regular hunting license and $5 if the two documents are purchased separately.

In other words, the combination hunter-bow license will cost the archer $7, five for the general hunting license and two dollars for the bow license. If the archer purchases only the hunting license and later decides to hunt in an archery area, the two licenses will cost him $10, five for the regular hunting license and five for the archery license.

To save themselves a few dollars, bow hunters should make up their minds before purchasing the two documents separately.

The bow license is required to hunt in any specific archery season where hunting with other weapons is prohibited. The license is not needed to hunt with bow and arrow during general big game seasons.

U OF O RUNNER COMPETES JAN. 27

Olympian Steve Prefontaine will attempt an unprecedented fourth straight victory in the two-mile run at the 13th renewal of the Oregon Indoor Invitational Track & Field Meet January 27 in Portland's Memorial Coliseum.

Prefontaine, fourth in the Olympic 5,000 meter run last summer, ran to victory in the Oregon Indoor two-mile last three years in times of 8:39.2, 8:31.6 and 8:26.6. The latter time, identical to his winning time posted in a later meet at Los Angeles, stands as the collegiate indoor record.

The popular "Pre" also will be trying for his third consecutive title as the meet's "outstanding performer." He is the only two-time winner and is one of five two-milers to win the award.

The University of Oregon senior has an outdoor best of 3:57.5 in the mile.

Ticket applications for the meet will be mailed next week. Tickets will go on sale in mid-January at the University of Oregon and Oregon State University athletic departments, Memorial Coliseum and at various other locations in the Portland area.
