

Governor Appoints Col. Miller As Adjutant General of Oregon

Governor Tom McCall announced today the appointment of Colonel Richard A. Miller of Portland as Adjutant General of Oregon. The appointment was effective as of March 6. He will be nominated for promotion to the rank of Brigadier General.

Miller has been principal of David Douglas High School for the last seven years. He has resigned that position.

He also has served since last year as deputy commander of the 41st Infantry Brigade, composed of 4,100 officers and men. Miller succeeds General Donald N. Anderson as Adjutant General. Anderson retired, effective March 5.

McCall said, "Dick Miller's administrative and personnel experience makes him eminently qualified to assume command of the Military Department. His promotion flows naturally from a distinctive public service career spanning almost three decades."

Miller, 50, was born in Albany. He earned a master's degree in education at Oregon State University. He taught and served as assistant football coach at Grants Pass High School in 1948-49. He served as head football coach at St. Helens High School from 1949 to 1953, and head football coach at Hillsboro High School in 1953-54. He joined the David Douglas High School staff in 1954 when the school first opened. He served as head football and track coach, director of athletics and vice principal before his elevation to principal seven years ago.

Miller served in the Army from 1943 to 1946. He was commissioned a lieutenant at the Army's Officer Candidate School in Brisbane, Australia.

He joined the Oregon National Guard in 1948 as executive officer of the 162nd Infantry Regiment. He has served as a company commander, regimental plans and training chief, personnel officer, G-3 Air and Assistant Chief of Staff for the 41st Infantry Division, commander of the Engineering Battalion of the 41st Infantry, executive officer of the 41st Infantry Brigade, and as a colonel in the U.S. Army Reserve attached to the 82nd Support Center of the Oregon Army National Guard. He was promoted to deputy brigade commander in 1972.

The Adjutant General is the full-time director of the Oregon Military Department, the supervising headquarters for the Oregon Army and Air National Guard. He also administers federal money and property made available to the Na-

11th Airborne Division To Celebrate Reunion

Veterans of the famed 11th Airborne Division who, together with the First Cavalry Division, liberated Manila in 1945, will meet in Hot Springs, Arkansas to celebrate the thirtieth anniversary of the activation of the 11th at Camp MacKall, N.C. in 1943.

Commanded by Major General Joseph M. Swing, now retired Lieutenant General, the 11th landed at Batangas south of Manila, while the 511th Parachute Infantry dropped on Tagaytay Ridge, near Lake Taal.

The 11th Airborne Division gained its nickname "The Angels", from a daring raid behind Japanese lines to liberate 1,247 internees at Los Banos Prison Camp, by land, water, and parachute. The defending force was wiped out, and the internees who had suffered over three years imprisonment declared that "they looked like angels descending from heaven".

After Luzon was secured, the 11th was the first American unit to land in Japan for the surrender, and occupied that country until 1950 when it moved to Fort Campbell, Kentucky.

Anyone desiring information of the reunion, planned for July 13 through 15, 1973 may contact Glenn Ward, Adrian Oregon, telephone 372-2171 for further details.

March, 1971, and graduated with a rating of RMSN.

He was promoted to RM3c in July, 1972 and will take his examination for RM2c in Boise in August. He is back drilling with the Boise Naval Reserve unit.

David is a 1970 graduate of Nyssa High School and attended Southern Oregon College at Ashland one term. He will enroll at Oregon State University next week for Spring term.

TRENDS IN FEDERAL DOLLAR OUTLAYS

In less than two decades the proportion of federal outlays for National Defense and Human and Physical Resources has been reversed. Outlays for National Defense, as a percentage of the federal budget, have been cut in half. During the same period, the percentage of outlays for Human and Physical Resources have nearly doubled. These outlays cover education and manpower, health, income security, veterans benefits and services, agriculture and rural development, natural resources and environment, commerce and transportation, community development and housing.

The slight gain in space research and technology is due to the fact that the space program was just getting underway in 1955. This program peaked in 1966, and has been declining since that time.

Parma Wool Pool Sells 16,500 Fleeces

The Parma Wool Pool of 16,500 fleeces consigned by producers in South-western Idaho and Malheur County sold Wednesday for $1.1596 per pound. The high bid was submitted by J.R. Condrin for the Carron Spinning Mills of Rochelle, Illinois.

Other bids received by the directors of the pool included: The Top Company of Boston, represented by Charley Stewart; The North Central Wool Marketing Association of Minneapolis, Minnesota, from their representative, Robert Patterson; Provoet Lefebvre of Boston represented by Scott Smith.

There are about two-hundred form flock operators consigning wool to the pool. John Riddle, Caldwell, president of the pool, said the clips will be received and stored for shipment at the J.C. Watson warehouse in Parma. The buyer will receive and ship the wool about the middle of May. Riddle urged growers to be as careful in their shearing and packing operations as possible to insure clean, high quality wool. This year, Riddle said, producers must tie their bags with regular paper wool strings furnished by the pool. Sacks tied with other than wool strings such as binding twine, baler twine, wire and other materials will be rejected at the warehouse.

Directors of the pool representing Malheur members are Jim Wilcox of Vale and Leroy Sprague of Nyssa. Producers who have signed contracts with the pool may receive their sacks and strings from these directors. A supply of sacks and strings are also available to Ontario area producers in the Malheur County Extension Office in the Ontario City Hall.

The New Sportswear And How To Wear It

American sportswear is truly liberated fashion. An infinite variety of lifestyles packaged in one 10-letter word. A word that promises unlimited options... and throws out yesterday's rulebook at the same time. What fun it is too. Now you can be all the people you are any way you like it. All it takes is a little inspiration. Here's some... they'll all be the right looks for '73... some will be just right for you.

Pattern yourself new

How? Pile on checks with stripes and dots. As long as you keep the colors in the family, the particulars can run wild!

The dress? yes?

Keep changing your pace. Today's dresses are different. They reflect all the games people play. Some have swim suit tops, others the tennis look, even the shirtwaist is making contemporary news in sensuous knit fabrics and prints.

Shall we pants?

What would Fred Astaire have to say about the new loose-legged swingers? Probably that they look great. So do the new rich girl jeans. Post-graduate pedal pushers are fabulous too. If you think you're inspired now, wait until you see what's in store for you in your local sportswear departments. You wouldn't have thought you could wear so many looks so well. As much as sportswear is a sign of the times however, one little sign doesn't change. That familiar union label found in so many great American-made sportswear designs. It gives you the extra satisfaction of having bought a garment that stands for skilled workmanship, design creativity and the importance of American jobs.

Lay on the lengths

If you showed a leg yesterday you'll look ever so more interesting in that ankle length skirt today. Keep them guessing.

Take it from the top

Easy, inexpensive look for a multitude of images. Just switch your top from halter to mohair sweater to tiny tummy-baring midriff and back to the classic shirt. Ah, mystique.
