

Favorite Foods

By "Odie" Anderson

I can remember, as a child eating pickled eggs. The eggs were also kept in a crock covered with "water glass" to preserve them for later use. There were no refrigerators to store them. The pickled eggs have always been a favorite with our family.

If you dye a lot of eggs for Easter, this is a good way to keep them.

PICKLED EGGS

- 12 hard-cooked eggs
 - 2/3 cup beet juice
 - 3/4 cup vinegar
 - 1 3/4 cups water
 - 2 tbs. chopped onion
 - 10 whole cloves
- Place shelled, hard-cooked eggs in a deep casserole. Combine remaining ingredients and pour over eggs. Cover and refrigerate 2 or 3 days before serving.

Eggs are nutritious. They're especially high in protein and vitamin A. They're a "stick to the ribs" food. Other proteins are high in cost. We can vary the flavor of eggs and serve them often.

radish, mayonnaise, and mustard. Refill whites with egg yolk mixture, heaping lightly. Sprinkle with paprika and parsley.

Gelatin is an all time favorite among young and experienced cooks alike. The young make it because its easy and the experienced cook makes Gelatin salads and desserts because of its versatility.

GINGER ALE - LIME SALAD

- 1 pkg lime gelatin
 - 1/2 cup boiling water
 - 1 cup small marshmallows
 - 1 7-oz. bottle ginger ale
 - 1/2 cup celery, chopped
 - 1/2 cup nuts, chopped
 - 1 cup cream, whipped or
 - 2 cups whipped topping.
- Add gelatin to hot water, add marshmallows and stir until dissolved. Add ginger ale and refrigerate until partially set. Fold in nuts, celery and whipped cream or topping. Refrigerate until set. Serves 6.

Oregon Parks To Open April 13

A large number of Oregon State Parks with overnight camping facilities will formally open for the 1973 season on Friday, April 13, it was announced today by David G. Talbot, state parks superintendent. Weather conditions could force a change but presently 24 camps are scheduled to open on this date, Talbot said. The remainder of the State Parks with overnight camping facilities will open when weather conditions permit. Wherever weather conditions permit, the day-use areas of all State Parks remain open throughout the year. Presently there are seven parks with overnight facilities open throughout the year. These are primarily along the coast with the exception of the Valley of the Rogue State Park.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT By Rep. D.E. (Denny) Jones

Last Friday we went to the La Grande area to view the Tussock Moth infestation. Almost the entire House and Senate Agriculture Committees were in the party. Also included were members of the Press, Representative Pat Whitling of the House Environment and Land Use Committee, the State Forester, representatives of Boise Cascade and Georgia-Pacific, which are private owners of timber involved in the Tussock Moth problem. We went up to the timber close to La Grande and viewed some timber there in all stages of infestation--some of it completely dead, some of it half dead, some of it with the tops dead--all sizes of trees from tiny trees clear on up to the old firs. Most of this infestation is in white fir, but some is in Douglas fir. We saw a lot of forest that was completely dead that we didn't know about until we were on our way back.

Of course the environmentalists are opposed to the use of DDT for controlling this moth, which, by the way, is the only thing that will kill it at this time. The main purpose of this trip used for schools. What I'm saying is that all of the income tax money could be used for schools, therefore running us short of money to run our state government with. We can't completely do away with all of the programs that are down here so then there is the fear of having more taxes to raise enough money to do this.

One other brief comment. Regarding House Bill 2364, which authorizes the special election, this sets out the guidelines for the Voters Pamphlet and the present ballot title, which perhaps will be challenged by some members of the Legislature within the required time limit of five days, in an appeal filed to change the present ballot title to make it more explanatory.

Senate Bill 475, which is the old original bounty bill, to require the State Game Commission to pay a $25 bounty, was introduced by Senator Ted Hallock. This has been rewritten and is completely a new bill and looks like a good bill. It has a few corrections to be made yet, and the Game Commission has raised their participation in the predatory program to $35,000, which now gives us $75,000. The State Department of Agriculture will match this. Then the counties, if they elect to, will raise 1.6% of this amount. This will be matched, then, by the Federal government and this will give

Predators Take Heavy Toll on all Animals

Lake County, Oregon, suffered loss of 153 calves to predators between February 11 and March 10 to rank number one in the state's count for the period.

According to figures compiled by the Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife and released by the Oregon Department of Agriculture, a total of 437 domestic and wild animals and fowl were destroyed by predators during the month.

Ranking second were chickens with losses coming to 63, all but 13 of them in Linn County. Losses in lambs, sheep, pheasant, deer and geese rounded out the period total.

Following Lake County in numbers of losses were Linn with 50 chickens and 15 lambs, and Klamath with 35, most of them pheasant. Wallowa County recorded a loss of 25 sheep and Malheur County claimed loss of 14 sheep.

Lambs also suffered the greatest number killed between July 1, 1972, and March 10, 1973. Chickens, sheep, ducks, geese, pheasant and deer followed in that order.

The Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife answered 104 new requests for service in dealing with depredations to fowl and livestock.

us a pretty fair budget to fight predators with.

The Agriculture Committee held a meeting this morning in regard to the Tussock Moth situation, and this was attended by wildlife groups such as the Izaak Walton League, the Wildlife Federation and also some environmental groups. The tone of the meeting this morning was somewhat better as far as these groups are concerned, and I have hope that we can eventually get their support to get DDT to control the Tussock Moth.

We have had two full sessions here lately. Wednesday and Thursday we were on the Floor almost all day with testimony pro and con on the Governor's tax package, House Bill 2004. As that has taken most of the limelight, I don't have too much to say to you as far as news is concerned in other categories.

I was pleased to have this week my two grandchildren from Bend, Todd and Sherry Dinsmore, as honorary pages, and also their Mother and my other young grandson were guests of mine, along with my wife, Mildred, in the south aisle of the House Chambers.

HEARTY STUFFED EGGS

- 4 eggs, hard-cooked
 - 2 tbs. Blue Cheese, crumbled
 - 1/2 tsp. horseradish
 - 3 tbs. mayonnaise
 - 1/4 tsp. prepared mustard
- Slice eggs in half. Remove yolks and mash with a fork. Mix in the Blue Cheese, horseradish and mustard.

FIRE CALL

Sunday, March 25 in mid-afternoon, the Nyssa volunteer firemen were called to the residence of Leonard Cleaver at #8 Green Street. A cigarette had started a fire in the couch.
