Outdoorsmen Schedule Meet

The April meeting of the Eastern Oregon Outdoorsmen is scheduled for 8 p.m., Monday, April 9, at the Boulevard Grange, near Cairo Junction. The meeting will feature the first reading of the club's proposed constitution and by-laws, which will detail the organization of the EOO, according to acting Vice-president Glenn Marcum of Nyssa.

An appointed nominating-membership committee will offer its recommendations for club officers to the general membership. In addition, a financial report of the club will be made by Alvin Griffin, acting treasurer. EOO committees, representing the clubs varied outdoor interests, will make reports on formation and objectives of the committees for the next coming months.

According to Jerry Hansen, acting president of the EOO, "the growth of the organization is gratifying. Family membership has been growing steadily, reflecting interest by local sportsmen. We have still not reached the point, in membership, where we have grown comfortable. Anyone interested in outdoor recreation and conservation needs to be informed and involved in guiding resource management decisions. We have a need for such outdoorsmen and their families in our county-wide club," according to Jerry Hansen.

Membership is encouraged from Ontario, Vale and Nyssa as well as the other outlying communities of the county. If you are not yet a member and curious about the club and what it will be involved with, stop by and get acquainted. We hope you and your family will choose to join.

Refreshment and pie will be served at this April meeting.

NEWSMEN AND BLM OFFICIALS made a stop at the Rome airstrip, an old World War II field used by gunnery and bombing crews in the early 40's. BLM officials took their guests out into the desert for a picnic lunch, and to show them first-hand the habitat of the wild horses now under BLM jurisdiction, all part of a day-long trip to Southern Malheur County last Thursday. Flying home, the BLM guests were treated to a spectacular flight up the Owyhee Gorge and Owyhee Lake, with scenes like these at every turn. Water at Owyhee Dam is very near the top of the glory hole, promising an abundant water supply this year for Malheur County farmers.
