APRIL 3, 1913, Gate City Journal -

ADRIAN NEW NAME OF TOWN ON SNAKE - The name of the new town of Riverview on the Nyssa-Buhl south side water grade road, 12 miles from Nyssa, has been changed to the shorter and less euphonous name of Adrian, according to R. McCreary, owner of the townsite, who was a business visitor in Nyssa Monday. Several other towns along the line having names very similar, the railroad company asked that the change be made in order to avoid confusion.

There are 73 acres in the townsite, which Mr. McCreary is now engaged in leveling and otherwise putting in shape for the population that is to follow.

POWER LINE WILL BE EXTENDED TO ADRIAN - The first car of 40-foot poles is being unloaded this week for extension of the Idaho-Oregon Light and Power Co.'s line from the Kingman Colony pump station to Adrian. Several pumping stations in the vicinity of Adrian will be supplied with motive power from this extension.

U of O Dorms Filling Fast

An unexpected increase in demand for dormitory rooms for next fall at the University of Oregon has suddenly pushed the Housing Office into a "seller's market."

With Spring Term barely at mid-term, fewer than 500 spaces remain unreserved for Fall Term of 1973.

Students who want to live in the dormitories are advised to get their reservations in as soon as possible. The total available space in the University dormitories is 2,459. Reservations had been made for 2,035 of these by April 19.

All single rooms have been reserved and a waiting list has been established for this type of accommodation.

OUT OF THE PAST

10 YEARS AGO

Of the approximately 1400 migrant laborers recruited by the Amalgamated Sugar Company to be used in beet thinning operations, 900 have arrived in the county.

Approximately 300 are in the Nyssa labor camp with the other 600 being divided among the labor camps at Adrian, Vale and Ontario.

Most of the migrants are unemployed at the present time and the 500 yet to arrive will probably be here before there is work for all.

Ray Larson will be valedictorian, Kathleen Loe will be salutatorian, Verna Greenlee will be historian, Bob Eldredge will read the class will and Helen Sallee will give the class prophesy.

Connection with the well on the school grounds and the drilling of a new well on Third Street is expected to give the city of Nyssa an adequate water supply, according to water superintendent Claude Willison.

40 YEARS AGO

The J.A. Terteling Company of Boise has completed the construction of the first link of the North canal on the Owyhee irrigation project, a section 4.6 miles in length between Tunnel Canyon and the Owyhee River which cost approximately $133,430.

The ditch is 24 feet wide at the bottom and as much as 150 feet across where it makes a deep cut along a chalk-like hill between Snively and the Owyhee River. It will carry 1190 second feet of water for the entire Mitchell Butte division.

Tete Terteling has had two shovels at work during the past several months. His crew made their headquarters at Shea Tunnel Camp, the scene of much activity until the completion of the Shea tunnels in 1932. Terteling subtlet the concrete work in his contract to John Klug, whose work is also nearing completion.

Shea camp will soon be deserted as the small Shea crew which has been supplying gravel for the lining of Magoffin tunnel will be leaving soon. Magoffin will complete tunnel lining this spring.

Homemakers' Tour Set For Monday, May 7

An educational tour for homemakers to points of interest in the Boise area is being planned for Monday, May 7, according to Helen Conner, Malheur County Extension Home Economist. All interested homemakers are invited to take part in the tour which is being arranged by the Home Economics Extension Advisory Committee. Arrangements have been made to charter a bus from Ontario to Boise. Those wishing to take part in the tour should pre-register at the Extension Office by April 30. The fee for the bus and insurance is $3.00. Highlight of the day's activities will be a visit to the Mountain States Tumor Institute. This will be of special interest to women who attended

THE NEW NYSSA CO-OPSUPPLY BUILDING walls are rapidly reaching their intended height. Devere Nelson, center, and crew are laying the final blocks on the south wall of the new building which will soon be a $100,000 addition to Nyssa's business district.

Strawberry season is almost upon us and am I happy about that! Strawberries are loaded with vitamin C and are lower in sugar than most fruits. The recipe I'm suggesting this week calls for frozen strawberries. Do you have some in your freezer?

- ZUCCHINI-CORN BAKE
- 6 tablespoons butter
 - 1/3 cup thinly sliced green onions
 - 4 cups fresh or frozen kernel corn (about 8 medium ears)
 - 4 cups sliced Zucchini (2 medium, sliced 1/4 inch)
 - 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 - 1 cup sharp cheese, grated
 - Paprika
- Into a skillet place and melt butter, saute onions, corn and zucchini until tender. (Cover while cooking, stirring occasionally) Add parsley, salt and pepper. Pour into a 2 quart casserole and sprinkle with cheese and paprika. Bake 20 minutes at 350 degrees. Serves six.

- STRAWBERRY CAKE
- 1 - 10 1/2 oz. package frozen strawberries
 - 1 package strawberry gelatin
 - 3/4 cup boiling water
 - 2 tablespoons strawberry juice
 - 1 - lb. 2 oz. package white cake mix
 - 3/4 cup corn oil
 - 4 eggs
- Thaw strawberries and place in a strainer. Dissolve strawberry gelatin in boiling water. When cool, add 2 tablespoons of the strawberry juice. Pour cake mix into large bowl of electric mixer. Add corn oil and gelatin. Beat until smooth. Add eggs, one at a time, beating 4 minutes in all.
- Pour into a 9x12x2 baking pan and bake 35 to 40 minutes at 350 degrees. While hot, prick cake with fork and pour a mixture of strawberries, 1/2 cup juice and 1/2 cup powdered sugar over cake. Serve with whipped cream and whole strawberries.

Do you cook Zucchini often or is it one of the vegetables you pass up at the fresh vegetable counter in the market. They're good, served simply with salt and pepper and butter.
