JIM ROBINSON - NYSSA

In a few weeks I may bore you about my observations of several European nations. I'm anxious to get going.

Herb Sez ...

Last week, I mentioned that travel was my downfall, well, since I'm writing this in advance I should be in Lausanne, Switzerland. I hope to be attending the Rotary International Conference. This should be a very interesting session. They expect to have over 15,000 people in attendance and it will be a tower of bable because over 100 different nationalities will be represented. I've been doing a little cramming on French and have gotten to the point where I believe I can understand French almost as well as I can understand Chinese. To see the words in print is one thing but to hear them spilled out is another.

I'm told that the planning for and anticipation of a trip is a greater pleasure than the actual happening. If this is so, my first trip off the continent will be a wonder because I have high expectations. My real desires in the trip aren't very much. I want to see Big Ben in London. The Eiffel Tower in Paris is a must because I've eaten at the top of the Space Needle in Seattle, the Landmark in Las Vegas and Husky Tower in Calgary. I also hope to beist a glass of beer in Heideberg, Germany. I'm told that Italian spaghetti doesn't taste as good as the spaghetti here in Idaho. This I don't doubt because probably Idaho Spaghetti is to Italy as chop suey is to Chinese. But I do want to eat Italian food in Italy if for no other reason than to try their wine with dinner.
