Senior Citizen Meetings Slated

The southeast Oregon Council of Government announces there will be several meetings in the area to enable the Senior Citizens of Malheur County to become acquainted with the Oregon State Council for Senior Citizens and their efforts in behalf of Seniors.

There will be an opportunity for questions to be answered. Mrs. Nancy Asbury, state coordinator, will be in Malheur County Wednesday, June 20 and a series of meetings are scheduled.

Meetings will be held in Nyssa at 3 p.m. in the basement of the Methodist Church, 308 Emmonson Avenue, Vale at 1:30 p.m., at Vale Senior Center, located on the corner of Cottage and B Street, Ontario at 10 a.m., at the Ontario Senior center, located behind the Armory. Everyone over 55 is welcome.

Range Resource Camp Planned

Young men who have completed the 7th, 8th or 9th grades will find great outdoor living at a five-day range resource management and conservation camp in eastern Oregon, August 5-11.

This is the camp sponsored by Oregon State Extension Service and the Pacific Northwest Section of the Society for Range Management. It is located in the historic Logan Valley of the Blue Mountains about 25 miles south of John Day.

The camp is planned as the opportunity for young men to study the relationships between range, timber, watershed, wildlife and other resources - "on location."

Few areas in the nation could match the potentials of this site in the Blue Mountains. Ecology here is something to experience - not just an elusive subject. The program is a balance of recreation and field study. Camp leaders are OSU specialists, foresters and professionals from other agencies. Field trips, a hike to High Lake, campfire programs and exploration of the desert are on the agenda.

Home-cooked meals, lodging, health and accident insurance, and necessary transportation while at camp are furnished. For application forms and further information contact your local County Extension Office or Fritz U. Rennebaum, Vale, before June 25.

BLM Awards

Two Contracts

The Bureau of Land Management has awarded two contracts totaling almost $200,000 for construction projects in southeastern Oregon, Congressman Al Ullman announced Thursday.

A $169,740 contract was awarded to Lynd and Sons of Jordan Valley for construction of the Star Valley Road in Malheur County and in Humboldt County, Nevada.

Douglas S. Coats Construction Co. of Bend was the apparent low bidder on a $30,215 contract to construct Kueny Bridge in Narney County.

County Searches For New Landfill Sites

The search for a new dump will soon be underway. The Ontario Landfill has a maximum life of 15 years, Vale and Nyssa, far less. The reasons for these abbreviated futures are varied, but the result is the same in each case.

The largest location for Solid Waste Disposal in Malheur County is the Ontario Sanitary Landfill. This facility, owned and operated by the Ontario Sanitary Service, is the only landfill in the county which has daily coverage of garbage. Although the landfill charges everyone bringing refuse, the landfill is operating in the red. The difference comes out of revenue paid by Ontario citizens for garbage collection service. This landfill has an estimated lifetime of 15 years at present levels of operation. As Ontario and the surrounding area grows, and as the unauthorized sites are closed, this 15 years will be reduced.

The Lytle Boulevard site serving the Nyssa area is in an even more precarious position than the Ontario Landfill. Unlike the Ontario Landfill, Lytle is not located on privately owned land, but is on BLM property. The Federal Government, through the Environmental Protection Agency, has strict regulations concerning the operation of solid waste disposal sites on their land. One of these regulations require that each site is to be covered each day. To cover the trash with soil every day is not economical as Lytle only receives 1/3 the refuse received at Ontario. Therefore, the county must look at alternatives to the current operations. Perhaps a landfill can be administered such that the county would acquire Lytle. The county, however, has little land for which the BLM would be willing to trade. This means that within a few years, regardless of the usable life left, Lytle will have to be closed.

The third major county dump is operated by the City of Vale. Located just south of the city, the Vale Landfill receives about 6,000 pounds of the 19,000 generated in that area each day. About 4,000 pounds is burned every day but unlike Nyssa and Ontario, this is not done by the resident in his backyard burn-barrel. The City of Vale operates a sanitary service much the same as sewer and water service, thus instead of only 30 to 50 percent of the residents having garbage collection (as in Nyssa and Ontario), all Vale residents receive the service. For this reason fewer Vale citizens need to burn their refuse. It is burned, however, when it reaches the dump. Like Lytle, the Vale dump is on federal land and will soon have to meet federal regulations. For this reason, Lytle, Vale and many of the smaller dumpsites will have to be closed in just a few years.

Another county operated site on BLM land is the Slides Landfill. Located near the Snake River on Highway 201, Slides is on the Oregon side near Weiser. Slides and the dump in McDermitt have each had a fire this year demonstrating the fire hazard at many of our dumps. Slides is located on unstable soil which could shift and cause several kinds of pollution and expensive slide repairs. This site will soon be receiving as much as 300 pounds of solid waste each day.

These are a few of the better, larger, sites where solid waste disposal now takes place.

New Nigerian Pipeline Ups Production Capacity

Completion of a 65-mile pipeline in Nigeria from Ubie to a new terminal at the mouth of the Brass River was announced by W. F. Martin, president of Phillips Petroleum Company, Bartlesville, Okla.

Crude oil movement was started through the 24-inch diameter pipeline on April 5 with initial throughput of 89,000 barrels of oil per day.

It should be obvious that better planning in the future can avoid some of these problems. Since these sites are necessary, the county must find some temporary operational methods until new sites or new technology allows the operation of the sites in a safer manner. This is what the Solid Waste Committee will be doing the next few months.
