These girls are one of many crews throughout the State of Oregon on the litter patrol, financed through sale of special license plates. They pick up litter in burlap bags, then transfer it to plastic bags to be picked up later by state highway crews.

Nancy Flint, 19, Ontario, recently completed her first year at Pacific University and is crew leader. Melene Kane and Deana Nelson will be seniors at Ontario High School next year, and Abby Widman is a Vale graduate who will attend Boise State College next year.
