ANIMAL HEALTH HINTS

BY DR. MIKE ADAMS
HOFFMANN LA ROCHE INC., NUTLEY, N. J.

GOBBLENS AND HOBBLENS

When a turkey walks with a stiff, painful gait, his owner is more than likely to consider this condition strictly for the birds. And there are other probable symptoms of biotin (vitamin H) deficiency in turkeys.

Besides leg-weakness and foot pad lesions, signs of such disorders are uneven growth, poor feathering and dry skin.

Much can be done to reduce the seriousness of these conditions by supplementing turkey feed with biotin, however.

If any of these symptoms is present, a continuous offering of feed fortified with biotin is probably in order. Such a feed will prevent and possibly cure a biotin deficiency in animals.

For a free copy of a new booklet about biotin, write to: Dr. Mike Adams, Roche Chemical Division, Hoffmann-La Roche Inc., Nutley, New Jersey 07110.

Medicare Coverage Extended To 1.7 Million

Starting July 1, Medicare coverage will be extended to 1.7 million disabled people under 65.

Disabled people who have received social security disability payments for two years or more will be able to get help from Medicare in paying their hospital and doctor bills and other covered medical services, according to Robert Peckham, Branch Manager, Ontario Social Security office. Medicare was previously available only to people 65 or over.

"Those eligible for coverage," Peckham said, "will include disabled workers, disabled widows and disabled dependent widowers between 50 and 65, disabled mothers 50 or older who get social security benefits because they have young or disabled children in their care, and people who get benefits because they were disabled before age 22."

People getting monthly social security checks because they are disabled will be notified if they are eligible for Medicare. Widows 50 or over who have been severely disabled for the last two years but have not filed a claim because they are getting checks as mothers should apply for disabled widows

Wright's Desert Home Wins 25-Year Award

Taliesin West, built as a desert camp in Arizona in 1938 by Frank Lloyd Wright, his associates and students has been given the American Institute of Architects' 25-Year Award.

This honor is given in recognition of architectural design of enduring significance to structures at least 25 years old.

First conceived as a short period residence, Mr. Wright and his associates came to use it for longer periods each year. The complex of structures was expanded and some of its original components were replaced with more permanent materials, all adhering to Mr. Wright's master plan for development.

Pietro Belluschi, FAIA chairman said, "The years have not diminished the elemental quality of Taliesin West. More than other works by this master, it shows how to grasp the mood of the land and transform it into a place of harmony and beauty. Here one understands the magic of man's primeval relationship to nature."

Whenever I eat at one of the popular eating places in Boise, I always enjoy "Cucumber in Sour Cream." I had never had

Do you serve zucchini to your family? The season for this vegetable will soon come to our area. Here's one way to serve it. Zucchini cooks rapidly. I like to prepare zucchini when it's about the size of a cucumber. It grows and grows if left on the vine and has a hard outer surface. Sometimes they grow to be three feet long!

- #### CUCUMBERS IN SOUR CREAM
- 1 cup dairy sour cream
 - 1/2 tsp. salt
 - 1/2 tsp. pepper
 - 1/2 tsp. grated lemon peel
 - 1 1/2 tsp. lemon juice
 - 1/4 cup snipped chives or green onion
 - 2 cucumbers, peeled and sliced
 - Combine sour cream, salt, pepper, lemon peel and juice. Stir in chives. Pour over cucumbers or toss to coat evenly.

Can somebody explain to me in simple English as to just what's going on? All of a sudden we're confronted with an oil shortage. It seems to have taken on the proportions of a crisis. We stop using umpteen gallons per day in Vietnam and immediately there's not enough diesel, fuel or highway gas. A crunch is on. Why?

If this is a way to let the people know what can happen in about five years I'll buy the deal. But if it's to create a diversion to take our minds off something else I'll have no part of it. Everyone knows that we're becoming more and more dependent upon foreign sources for our oil supply. Everyone knows that our domestic supply can't keep pace with the increased demand for highway and home supplies. But everyone doesn't seem to know that our oil companies are being bucked by the environmentalists to the point of prohibiting any new oil sources being used. New supplies such as the Alaskan Oil line are about five years distant, if we start working on them immediately. If we keep dinging around for another five years on offshore drilling we're going to have an oil shortage that will be a dinger.

Perhaps the present hue and cry is to keep us from sticking our finger into the Middle East Israel - Egyptian pot. If the Arab countries tell us, "No more oil as long as you assist Israel!" We could be in a real jam. If the present shortage is to keep us from another war, well fine and dandy. There has to be a reason and I'd really like to know why.

On the other hand I read in the paper where we shouldn't use 100 watt bulbs, electric stoves, air conditioners, hot water, etc. There's no immediate power shortage in Idaho. Someday perhaps, but now absolutely not. Cutting down on electricity now won't save one kw for tomorrow. To avert a power crisis tomorrow we must plan for more power plants today. It takes at least five years to build a power plant from scratch and the sad feature is that none are being planned. We object to hydro-electric, atomic and federalized fuel plants. Without any of these, how?
