AOI PRESIDENT LAUDS SENATE TAX PROPOSAL

The practical approach of the Oregon Senate's property tax relief and school finance plan has been praised by Henry T. Swigert, president of Associated Oregon Industries.

Outlined in principal before the Senate's Committee on Revenue June 13 by Senate President Jason Boe, the plan recognizes the demonstrated attitude of the Oregon electorate and should attract wide public support, said Swigert.

The leader of the statewide employer organization said elements of the tentative plan outlined by Sen. Boe closely parallel both AOI tax policy and the Legislature's Interim Committee on Taxation recommendations.

"From a practical standpoint," said Swigert, "business

The Senate plan would accelerate collection of corporate excise taxes in its first phase but differs greatly from a House-approved plan in that there would be no new or increased taxes in the coming biennium.

Swigert also lauded elements of the Senate plan establishing practical tax bases for schools, limiting school budget elections and placing limits on spending increases for annual operating costs.

The business leader declared the portion of the Senate plan involving institution of a two-tier equalization distribution plan developed by the Interim Tax Committee would achieve the goal of providing equal educational opportunity for all of our children. Swigert indicated he felt this plan would most likely meet any constitutional challenges.

In essence, the AOI president said, business recognizes the need to reduce public education's heavy dependence upon the property tax and will support programs designed to bring state funding to a practical point at or moderately above 50 percent.

The Senate plan would provide significant property tax relief in the coming two years without employing new taxes, referring subsequent increases to a vote of the people during the May Primary election. If increases receive voter approval, they would become effective 1975.
